POLITICAL NOTES.

Governor Noyes, of Ohio, is in New York city.

Henry Wilson addressed an immense audience at Brazil, Clay county, Ind., yesterday, and left there for Crawfordsville in the afternoon, to speak at the latter place in the evening. The campaign in the State is getting lively. Thus far the principal show of activity has been on the Republican side.

General W. S. Heeler, of New York, spoke in Louisville last night to a German Grant and Wilson club at Turner Hall. A large and attentive audience was present.

A Greeley meeting was held in the Sixtieth New York District last Monday evening, which was addressed by General Kilpatrick.

Horace Greeley was at a clam bake yesterday afternoon, at Silver Springs, R. I. There was a moderate gathering of people to greet him, but no especial demonstrations were made.

The Republican Convention of the Seventh Michigan District yesterday renominated O. D. Conger, of Port Huron, for Congress.

General J. F. Farnsworth, of Illinois, comes out for Greeley.

The Liberal Republican State Central Committee issued an address to the people of Massachusetts reviewing the political situation, and justifying the separation from the administration party and the support of Greeley.

It is rumored that General Hays telegraphed his declination of the nomination for Congress for the 2d Ohio district. There is evidently truth in the rumor, but the Republicans are determined to keep him on the track. General Hays was at Fremont, O., on Monday.

The Ohio District Conventions met on Tuesday and nominated candidates for Congress as follows: First district, for short term, Charles P. Taft; for long term, Benjamin Eggleston. Second district, Hon. R. B. Hays. The elector for the First district is General J. H. Bates, and for the Second district Wm. J. Davis.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the National Democratic Committee, on Monday, Ben Wood presiding, a communication was read from the Tammany organization inviting participation in a grand ratification meeting of the Baltimore nominations. The prevailing sentiment was adverse to joining the proposed meeting as partisan in character; hence it was decided to have a ratification meeting, and that a conference on the subject be had with other organizations.

The Democratic Convention held at Clarksburg, W. Va., yesterday, nominated Col. Ben. Wilson for Congress from the first district. The delegates who were instructed to vote for John Davies, the present Congressman, refused to go into the convention. Wilson was nominated over J. H. Good on the first ballot.

The London Saturday Review, in an article on "The American Presidency," calls Sumner's "elaborate oration" in the Senate "tumid twaddle," and says: "On an unenlightened foreigner the speech produces the impression of an enlarged copy of a school boy's theme—in pompous phrases, interspersed with real and imaginary examples from history."

Lewis Tillman, of Nashville, publishes a card giving the reasons which impel him to support Greeley. He says: "I regard the adoption of the Cincinnati platform and the nomination of Mr. Greeley by the Democratic party as complete an abandonment of Democratic opposition to Republican principles and measures growing out of the rebellion as if the party had nominated General Grant on the Philadelphia platform."

Less than four weeks ago the name of General Banks was signed to an address calling a National Convention of Veterans, from which we copy the following paragraph:

"We congratulate ourselves upon the fact that the Government, during the past three and one-half years, has been administered by one of our comrades, who has shown wonderful civil capacity in aiding in the reduction of the debt, in conducting our foreign affairs with great skill, so that we now stand at peace with the whole world, and in preserving peace in sections of our country where sentiments were entertained calculated to disturb the reorganization of the States lately in rebellion."

He now says:

"I am compelled to believe and to say that the perpetuation of the present policy of the Government is not to the advantage of the country, and that it will not tend to establish its former peace and prosperity, nor promote the interests of any class of its citizens."

Dr. Lieber, a well-known German-American, writes a letter in support of President Grant.

A dispatch from Thousand Islands says that the President, in an interview, stated that he considered the result in North Carolina a victory for the Republicans. He was not anxious for a second term, but consented to receive the nomination simply because he thought that was the best way of discovering whether a majority of his countrymen believed what was alleged against his administration and himself personally; and of the asperities of the election campaign, he added: It will give my political opponents and my personal enemies an opportunity and excuse to say all that can be said against me. All those who have treated me unfairly have now a chance to declare themselves." He did not personally covet the Presidency for the second term, but would test the sentiments of his fellow citizens in his behalf.

Hon. Philip Clayton, of Georgia, whose letter denouncing Greeley will be remembered as the first leading Democratic protest against Baltimore, was an influential politician and is still a prominent citizen of Georgia. He is out in a second letter replying to criticisms upon his course, and giving reasons why he concluded to support Grant and vigorously oppose Greeley. In brief, his argument, and it is well put, is that Mr. Greeley has been for a lifetime a bitter partisan leader against the South and its policy, and especially very bitter and vindictive in word and act, while Grant has been only the modest and magnanimous citizen soldier, simply following the line of duty and moving steadily to its requirement. Mr. Clayton characterizes his conduct to the South as generous and charitable, and closes a remarkable letter with the following words:

"What a contrast: The one full of humanity and the milk of human kindness; the other execrable wretch, belching forth feelings and sentiments that would have disgraced fiends in the inhumanity of their cruelty. Others, under the lash of party despotism, may feel no dishonor to their section in supporting Mr. Greeley. I cannot so see it. The very feelings of my heart revolt at the sacrifice; and no consideration can influence me to make it."

The Louisville Ledger does not like Horace's second letter of acceptance. It says: "Democrats had walked up like men and swallowed the Cincinnati pill—after it was sugar-coated with the original letter of construction. We had thought this enough. But not so. Now, just as we are enfeebled, faint, and helpless, from the nauseating effect of the dose, is seems the very refinement of cruelty to be thus drawn across the knee of the grim old man, and soundly spanked. But—anything to beat Grant."

Judge Woodward, of this State, is in Lexington, Ky., where he married some months ago. He made a Greeley speech there the other day in which he held that Greeley was once like Saul, a persecutor of the Saints, but being regenerated and redeemed, he was now a second Paul, preaching the gospel to the true in the faith.

The conferees of the nineteenth Congressional district of this State met at Ridgeway on the 31st of July and nominated Hon. Carlton B. Curtis, of Erie, by acclamation. Col. Curtis is a popular man and will carry the district by at least 2,500 majority. We understand he and Hon. G. W. Scofield will stump the entire oil region and western part of the State for Grant and the State ticket.

Justice Davis, of the Supreme Court of the United States, denies the recent publication that he opposes Greeley, and promises a letter full of Chappaqua talk.

The largest political gathering ever held in Scranton took place on Saturday night, to form a Grant and Wilson club. Richard S. Perry, the great labor reform champion, presided. Eloquent addresses were delivered by Capt. Laciar, of the Republican; Rev. Abel Barker, an anti-Greeley Democrat; Capt. Fitzgerald, a representative Irishman; Alfred Hand and others. Over 1,200 names were enrolled, and Gen. Phinney was elected President, with twelve Vice Presidents, one from each ward. The greatest enthusiasm was manifested throughout.

A New York letter says: Large quantities of money have changed hands on the result in North Carolina. Private information this afternoon is to the effect that John Morrissey, who is at Saratoga, although a Greeley man, was so confident that the State would go Republican, that he made a large number of bets at the odds of $100 to $25 against his own party. One gentleman in this city had $5,000 even staked on the result, and yesterday refused an offer of half that amount to release him from the bet. The bets are not yet decided.

And now comes Rev. J. B. Cleveland, of Bloomfield, Conn., who sends a letter to the Meridian Republican, saying that, although he has loved Gratz Brown for twenty-five years, he can't help admitting that the distinguished Missourian was under the influence of "some intoxicating drink or drug" during that fatal night at New Haven.

The Hon. W. W. Ketcham and Gen. Harry White, who were Gen. Hartranft's principal competitors for the Gubernatorial nomination, will both positively be present and speak at the Ratification Meeting in New Brighton on the 15th inst.

"BEAUTIFUL PITTSBURGH."

A Correspondent's View.

AN INTELLIGENT "CHIEL AMANG US "TAKIN' NOTES."

What He Printed—The Smoke, the Enterprise, the Wealth, the Picturesque Surroundings of Pittsburgh—Something of Our Manufactures, Our People, Our Politics, Our Religion — Interspersed with Spicy Comments on Our Society and Social Life in General.

A lively and observant correspondent of the Boston Globe, the leading paper in New England, and one of the best in the land, has been among us, and favors his readers with a racy description of people and business in Pittsburgh, which is so near the truth, and withal such a pretty pen picture of ourselves, that we have transferred it to our columns. It is not often Pittsburgh is dealt so justly with by correspondents, nor a correspondent's views expressed with such grace and force.

Our visitor begins by saying:

"THE BLACK TOWN."

"Like the rest of the black race, Pittsburgh is slowly swimming her way to justice and recognition. She is the subject of some agitation on the part of other cities, and though she has not altogether made them accept and believe in her yet, there is a very considerable turning up of noses at her, and that is a very decided step forward.

No city in the country has been the subject of more curiosity, more good natured and ill natured abuse, nor more varied and illimitable ignorance. Only Chicago has been more joked about, or has had more manifold unveracity expended on her. 'See Pittsburgh and die,' is the expression of many who have no intention of seeing the Iron City if they can help it. It means that Pittsburgh experiences are enough to kill one. Even the census taker is unjust to the black town, and distributes through numerous corporations many thousands of her rightful population. The last census credits Pittsburgh with 86,900 souls. Since it was taken, the consolidation of some of the neighboring boroughs with the city has increased the recognized population to 120,000; and when Allegheny City, which lies north of the Allegheny river, and is really a part of Pittsburgh, has been formally annexed, the figures will reach 175,000; what they should, by right, be now.

THE CITY'S RESPONSIBILITY

Pittsburgh herself is greatly responsible for the long delay of recognition. She sat down here with her smoky veil drawn close about her, and had little to say for herself. The customers who bought from her thought of this great, rich, toiling, powerful city only as a big factory, so there was very little fuss made about it. Its existence and its locality were known. It was known that vast quantities of iron were worked up here; that glass was manufactured here, and was about the only pure thing to be seen; that a great deal of coal was mined hereabouts, either under the pavements or somewhere else, and that fire and smoke prevailed to an extent unknown elsewhere save in still more undesirable localities. All this was known, but the knowledge was mixed with a vague notion that all the men worked in the rolling mills; that all the women carried moist sponges in their pockets to wash each other's faces when they met; and that all the children had to be assorted and claimed at a general municipal washing place, and that the lights had to be kept burning night and day.

That this was a great city,

FULL OF WEALTH,

crowded with a population of quite as good an average as other cities, possessing the best social refinements, offering encouragements to excellence in every art, and embracing an unusually large proportion of beautiful women, and cultivated men; these facts were but dimly known and rarely thought upon. Even in the city itself, the facts were not all made the most of. Perhaps it is better that a city, as well as an individual, should tell a little less than a good deal more than the whole truth about itself; but it is best that cities as well as individuals should know the whole truth and have judgment to strike the pace that will win. Pittsburgh is now testing her paces energetically. She is stepping out vigorously, and the others on the course are watching and studying her movements. Perhaps, in the turn of events they will find the cart horse a thoroughbred.

No city has more

than this. Whether you travel by rail or by by river, you cannot approach or leave it by an unpleasant route. The most delightfully varied and picturesque scenery is on every hand, and the dwellers have it at their very doors. The city stands on the wedge of land between the Monongahela and Allegheny rivers, as they come to form the Ohio. It crowns as many hills as Rome. River and mountain scenery surround it everywhere. Spots of exceeding beauty, drives and rambles that are unsurpassed, surround it in every direction, and are within easy reach. Pittsburgh is discussing the project of a great park, and should have one; but whether she achieves her park or not; she should lose no time in converting some of her exceedingly picturesque streets into plaza promenades; in improving her suburban roads, and so making the magnificent places all around easier of access. A very fine park for Pittsburgh was laid out some centuries ago.

A TOPOGRAPHICAL VIEW.

Having reached the city, you find that it is not altogether in keeping with the surrounding scenery. No city ever is, unless the surrounding scenery be very bad indeed. Nature does not often lay out a landscape garden with a view to brick and mortar as elements of it. The city is picturesque enough in its way, but its way is not the beautiful way of the country around it. It climbs up steep hills and hurries down the other sides of them; it toils tremendously along the bank of the Alleghany river, and halts abruptly to look over the high bluffs at the Monongahela; it rambles off in the most aimless fashion, along the narrowest streets that have no possible excuse for being where they are or going where they go. No other city offers the stranger such facilities for getting lost, or insures such headaches to the citizen who would direct the stranger by word of mouth. There is only one theory by which the streets of Pittsburgh can be explained. The surveyors tied a kettle to a lively dog's tail and laid out streets wherever he ran. The streets leave each other at all possible angles, and in the endeavor to run parallel with all three of the rivers at once, achieve a most bewildering indirectness. Every thoroughfare in the city is too narrow, both as to roadway and sidewalk, and in some of the principal thoroughfares this narrowness is a great nuisance, all the more intolerabe that there is no help for it.

AN ARCHITECTURAL VIEW.

The buildings lining the streets are of two classes; one class is very shabby and the other is very elegant. The first is the class of the old period, the second the class of the new, for the most part, no more than six years. The awakened spirit of the place began to stir that length of time ago, and now, everywhere, transition is the manifest state of affairs. Improvement has put its moulding hand on everything. The new streets are laid out with a liberality that would have frightened the 'old folks;' the new buildings are what would have doomed the architects to a lunatic asylum a few years ago, and too full of extravagant notions to be at large, and the whole range of enterprise shows a loosening of old joints, and the growth resulting from vigorous, generous blood in the sturdy body. Like other new converts, Pittsburgh is a trifle over-zealous in some directions. She plans great parks, stupendous water works, magnificent avenues, and costly public buildings, with a lavishness that might be beneficially salted with a few grains of prudence. But the vigorous play of the roused athlete is not likely to interfere greatly with the solid, sober work which Pittsburgh long ago accepted as its mission, and which is its chief characteristic.

In the new buildings more than anything else, perhaps, is the new life of the city manifested. Nearly every new structure is a handsome one, built in accordance with the best spirit of the time. Brown stone, granite, Massillon stone and iron are the prominent materials. It would be difficult to find anywhere finer iron buildings than here. Many of the recent notable structures are banks, but the latest accession is the remarkably fine Municipal Hall, built of stone. In the way of residences, the suburbs of no city show a greater number of elegant dwellings, or of dwellings more delightfully located.

"EVER ABIDING SMOKE."

The peculiarity of Pittsburgh which first impresses a stranger, is the all prevailing, ever abiding smoke. It impresses him materially. It meets him on his way to town and stays with him unrelentingly. Coming from the clear sunshine of the open country into the dense murk of this atmosphere, the stranger invariably receives the impression of an impending thunder storm. The impression is not at all lessoned by the continuous rumble and roar and explosiveness of the work going on all around. The smoke is always thick and heavy, a predominating element of the city's atmosphere. It is the element to which the people have to get acclimated, as they do the fever and ague in the west. The task is accomplished here much the same as there. They get used to it, but never quite like it. Old Pittsburghers have a kind of preverse pride in their smoke, and delight to puff it in the faces of their visitors.

There comes frequently a day, dark, heavy, abominable, such a day as would have been unpleasant even in the Garden of Eden. Then the gloomy glory of Pittsburgh is at its height—or depth. The smoke settles in a heavier cloud than usual, into the very mud. It condenses into floating, falling flakes of soot which defile everything, like the touch of pitch, and are incorporated with the mud itself, making of it an oily varnish, more horrible even than mud used to be. On such a day gas must be kept burning in the offices and counting rooms until nearly noon; streets are dismal, and in the uninformed mind there is a constant impulse to hoist an umbrella. It is on a day of this kind, by some strange fatality, that visitors whom one is anxious to have form a good opinion of the place generally arrive. They receive impressions easy to imagine, and sometimes difficult to wash off. If they have courage to stay awhile, they find that pleasant days, days even that are bright after a fashion, are not wholly unknown here, but it takes many of them to make forgetfulness of the first horrible day possible. All this smoke is at best an unquestionable ordinance of saving grace for housewives. When they have learned to keep their tempers under its discipline, they are tolerably safe.

THE "FIRE" OF PITTSBURGH.

'Where there is so much smoke there must be some fire.' The literal truth of the proverb is impressed upon the most unobservant visitor here. One would suppose, after roughly estimating the number of fires in the city and vicinity, witnessing their extent and gaining some idea of their aggregate intensity, that the thermometer would never fall below summer heat. The earth's crust seems to be very thin here, and the central fires breaking through in every direction. Everywhere fire flames, glows, whitens and dazzles. It spouts from chimneys, it intensifies in open furnace mouths, it waves over many long lines of coke ovens, it rolls about in glowing balls, it falls in white cascades, it runs hither and thither in strange, gradually darkening outlines, it lengthens and grows sold in bars and rods, and takes beautiful shapes in globes, and tubes, and a thousand forms that are crystal when they cease to be fire. Fire here is the animating soul of all the industry, always alert, and always beneficently at work. It is a grand alchemy that melts black poverty and runs it into ingots of solid wealth. It sheds a tropical heat which quickens dirty barrenness to the growing of golden harvests.

The multiplied fire burns in rolling mills, nail factories, foundries, machine shops, glass factories, copper works, coke manufactories, and also countless minor establishments. You can hear the pulse of this hot life beating wherever you go and feel the scorching of its breath in the air. Along the three rivers, away out on every railroad line, on the streets of the city, on the roads of the suburbs, on hills and in hollows, the clangor and flame and smoke of these grim industries make themselves manifest. Figures would give but a small idea of the magnitude of enterprise carried forward here. The vast multitude, the endless variety, and the great in and around the city are a source of bewilderment, even to those who are familiar with the place. To convey in figures an adequate idea of the immense productiveness of these establishments would be simply impossible. The amount of iron turned out in infinite variety of shapes into the market, not only of the country, but of the world, seems enough to almost supply the wants of the generation, and to exhaust the raw material furnished by half the discovered mines. It is the leading feature of Pittsburgh's industry, and is prominent enough to give the place its nickname. As to glass there is as much made here as in all the rest of the United States. Coal, too is a tremendous interest. It runs from its black veins directly into this great heart, and is thrown thence all through the West and South. Petroleum, also, the expressed juice of the Allegheny coal beds, has this for its great distributing depot. Other places want petroleum, and Pittsburgh sends it to them. The handling of the oil which passes through here would, of itself, be business for a tolerable city; and the oil refineries take rank as a leading feature of Pittsburgh industries.

WHICH IS HISTORICAL.

This is an old town. It dates back to 1783, and many a vital event which made the country ring in the days gone by is a part of its early history. George Washington might almost be called its founder; for it was for the possession of the ground where Pittsburgh stands, the key of the Mississippi Valley, that the first fight of the old French war was fought, in 1754, under the young commander. The little building, Fort Pitt, which the French refused to leave at his invitation, stood, until very recently, at "the Point," where the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers unite. Fort Duquesne, a little, quaint, brick building, erected in 1759, still stands at the Point, in the rear of another little building, on an obscure alley. A small candy shop now occupies the fortress for which nations fought. Not far away stands the first brick building ever erected in what is now Pittsburgh. It was Col. Boquet's house, and was built in 1754. Pittsburgh is of French origin, though no one would ever guess it from the tone of the people during the Franco-Prussian war. As early as 1749 it was a military and trading post. In 1813 it was erected into the borough of Pittsburgh, and in 1817 it was made a city. The first Mayor of the city, Hon. James Thompson, still lives within its limits.

The pre-eminent characteristic of the Pittsburgh people is their abiding

DISPOSITION TO WORK.

Industry is the normal condition of life here, and there is less elegant leisure than in any city in the country. You shall go into the suburbs for miles in any direction, and visit the handsomest and most luxurious homes, and shall find that the proprietors of these homes are not "retired" men, living on the interest of their money, and not even men whose sole business it is to watch and turn their accumulated capital, but men actually engaged in business in the city or vicinity, giving every day their personal attention and effort to their business. The "working classes" include almost all, from the richest to the poorest. They include even the loafers, of which type of creature there is a pestilent multitude. The fellows unite, in the oddest way, the professions of industry and idleness, and make the exercises of one calling the resting-spell for the other. The social spirit among Pittsburghers is rich and choice, and however much strangers may dislike the place itself, they always keep pleasant recollections of the people.

CORDIAL HOSPITALITY AND PRETTY FACES.

Pittsburgh hospitality is proverbial. The best society here has the charm of refinement, unalloyed with offensive stiffness and chilling ceremoniousness. Cordial freedom without the taint of that coarse materialism which many would expect amid so much absorbing work, is the social characteristic. There is some aristocracy, based for the most part on ancestral antiquity, but it is an aristocracy that does not intrench itself, but meets those outside the circle half way, and gives or receives a cordial welcome, other things being equal.

Evidence can be found in every department of art here, that the habit of work and refinement of tast and culture of intellect may harmonize perfectly. Another thing for which strangers are not prepared upon visiting Pittsburgh, is to find so much beauty among the women, and such tasteful richness in their toilets. Such pretty faces and fair complexions as one sees here at every turn seems impossible in this murky atmosphere, and the dirt and blackness on every hand develop a taste for the bright and beautiful which blooms out in elegance of dress.

As to religion, Pittsburgh has the reputation of being the

and with all its jollity and capacity for fun, is a very strict city. Wednesday night is "prayer meeting night," and on that evening secular entertainments are apt to languish. Nilsson sang here once on a Wednesday evening and the audience was a small one. Churches of all denominations abound, and all have extensive memberships. The works of Pittsburgh are largely inspired by faith, so far as church forming goes. One trouble is that the faith is so exclusively kept in the church, that proper attention is not paid to sewers, the cleaning of streets and the maintenance of public health, all which works of practical religion are worth considering. It is possible, however, that in the course of transition now in progress, even hygienic faith may find adequate embodiments. A characteristic of the place, as eminent as its industry, is its solidity, and it mobilizes slowly; but iron, once melted runs freely and irresistibly. When Chicago was burning, Pittsburgh undertook to send her substantial sympathy quickly, under the impulse of the moment, but could not. Her people eventually and with cumulative earnestness, took liberal action, and day after day, and week after week, benefactions came steadily forward. And so in everything. The place stands still solidly and goes ahead solidly. In the years to come its grand going ahead in all desirable directions, will astonish those who watch.

AME URD.

GERMAN IMMIGRATION.

An Alarm Sounded in Germany to Stop Immigration.

Next to the expulsion of the Jesuits, the subject most discussed in Germany just now is the necessity of reducing the flow of emigration to the United States. The fast increase of emigration this year seems to have awakened the Government to a realization of its loss, and the cue is given to the semi-official and conservative press to raise a cry of alarm.

The Cross Gazette fills its columns with doleful accounts from various districts where villages have been completely reduced by the American fever and asks why the State does not levy an emigration tax. "Let there be a tax of fifty thalers per head on every adult."

In similar strains a large number of journals are daily uttering their grief over the prevailing emigration fever, and Bismarck's organ joins in the complaint, though it lays the fault on emigration agents, who, it says, allure credulous victims by fraud and deception, and bring woe and ruin on families and entire communities. It particularly points the finger of scorn at a certain agent, William L. Rowland, who is a man of attractive exterior and engaging manners, and came from the United States with a sort of power of attorney to engage emigrants for unsettled districts. "Look out for him," says the Norddeutsche Zeitung, "he is not a licensed agent of Germany, and should be denounced by all well disposed parties whom he approached with his deceptive offers."

The Vossische Zeitung reports that orders have been given to arrest all individuals who persuade people to emigrate. All persons not supplied with papers saying they are fully entitled to emigrate; that they left no indigent family behind, and that they are not liable to military duty, shall be stopped at their own expense at the shipping port. It further cites law visiting evasion of military duty with a penalty of fifty to one thousand dollars and imprisonment of from one month to one year.

RETURNS from England show that the wheat crop is middling, the barley crop poor, and the yield of oats, beans and potatoes large. The new crop of wheat will not come into market until the middle of August, and it is estimated that in the meantime the country will require one million five hundred thousand quarters of wheat and flour. The report from Russia, whence England is accustomed to draw its chief supply, is that the crops are scarcely up to the average. In Hungary and Germany the yield will be fully up to that of former years, while in Southern and Western Europe there will be a deficiency. In the United States there are conflicting reports as to the crops, but on the whole a fair yield is expected.

Proceedings of the Geneva Arbitration.

Probabilities of the Verdict Being Against England—American Fleet to Winter in the North Sea—The Cuban Insurrection—Election Riots in Canada—Six Vessels Capsized and their Crews Lost.

SWITZERLAND.

THE GENEVA ARBITRATION.

NEW YORK, August 6.—A special dispatch from Geneva says that as the Arbitration progresses the probabilities increase that the verdict will be against England, and that it will be in the form of a declaration of her general responsibility for the acts of Confederate cruisers, and an award of a gross amount of demands, thus obviating a resort to a board of assessors. The American counsel apparently endeavor to secure this instead of a detailed award. The judgment of the court on each particular ship is therefore of less consequence than it otherwise would have been, but there is reason to believe that the case of the Georgia is the weakest and has been practically abandoned. The case of the Shenandoah, however, is pressed closely. Indemnity for the losses to the whaling fleet is especially urged. The discussion proceeds faster than was generally expected. The English counsel give particular emphasis to the argument that the Tribunal, under the Treaty of Washington, has no right to examine into the conduct of England in her execution of municipal law. They maintain that no nation is responsible to another for its international administration.

DINNER TO THE ARBITRATORS.

GENEVA, August 6.—The Arbitrators and senior counsel of both sides were dined yesterday by Sir Roundell Palmer.

GENEVA, August 6.—The Board of Arbitration met at noon to-day, and at three adjourned until to-morrow. Nothing in regard to to-day's proceedings has transpired.

GENEVA, August 6—Evening. The Board of Arbitrators adjourned until Thursday, not tomorrow, as stated in the last dispatch from this city.

GREAT BRITAIN.

THE AMERICAN FLEET.

LONDON, August 6.—The American fleet will proceed from Cowes to Gravesend, and from Gravesend to the North Sea, where it will remain during the winter, and return to the English Channel in the spring.

CREWS OF SIX FISHING VESSELS LOST.

LONDON, August 6.—During a severe storm yesterday six fishing vessels belonging to Berwick were capsized, and all on board were lost.

RAILWAY INVESTIGATION ASKED.

Several railway casualties having occurred recently, by which upward of twenty lives were lost, Parliament has been asked to investigate the causes of the disasters, and inquire into the general management of railroads, with relation to the safety of travelers.

AMERICANS IN PARLIAMENT.

Mr. Schenck, American Minister, General Sherman and Mr. Stanley occupied seats in the visitors' gallery last night during the session of the House of Commons.

FIRE.

Melkshott Court, the residence of Lady Ashburton, was destroyed by fire yesterday.

PREMATURE REPORT.

The report that Lord Hatherly has resigned the High Chancellorship is premature.

NAPOLEON AT THE SEA SIDE.

LONDON, August 6.—The Emperor Napoleon has gone to Bagnor, a sea side resort in Sussex.

CANADA.

ELECTION RIOT.

TORONTO, August 6.—At noon yesterday the polling between the two candidates in Quebec Centre was equal, and rioting was commenced by attacks on the committee rooms and polling places.

Later in the afternoon a terrible fight took place in St. Johns Ward, and resulted in the death of David Gandle, a young man, a sail maker, who was shot through the head by a young man named Gandreau. Three others were wounded by pistol shots, but are not considered fatally injured. No further disturbances were reported during last night or this morning.

WEST INDIES.

PERSONAL.

NASSAU, July 30, via Havanna, August 5.—Mahlon Chance, United States Consul at this port, sailed for New York on the 5th of August.

CUBAN PRIVATEER.

A supposed Cuban privateer called Birdrack stopped at Long Cay last week for water, and when she sailed left two of her crew behind, who were brought to Nassau.

SPAIN.

THE CUBAN INSURRECTION.

MADRID, August 6.—The Imparcial newspaper, in speaking of the Cuban insurrection, says: "13,600 rebels have been killed and 70,000 have submitted to Spanish authority; 10,000 horses, 5,000 arms and 3,000 swords have been captured."

INFERNAL MACHINES.

More Revelations from the Rebel Archives.

TORPEDOES TO BE USED IN NAVY YARDS, HOTELS AND WAREHOUSES AT THE NORTH.

A Washington special of Monday night says the third of the series of revelations derived from the rebel archives will be given to the public within a few days. They say that the horrible plans to burn cities, infect clothing and cotton, and perform other atrocities in the North, were not confined to Jacob Thompson. During the last year of the war, if the archives are to be trusted, a great number of chemical tests were made on torpedoes. One invention promised very well—that of prepared fulminates, to be used in navy yards, warehouses, hotels, and other places on land. These were to be thrown about on the floor, and upon being stepped upon would explode with great havoc. Another preparation was in the shape of a liquid or fine powder, and was only serviceable as a destroying agency upon being violently shaken, when it would explode and kill everybody within reach and set fire to the surrounding combustible objects.

A secret session of the Confederate Congress was held for the purpose of considering the claims of a noted chemist, now, it is said, editing a rampant Greeley paper in the South, who had invented, or discovered, as he said, the most remarkable life destroying agency that was ever known. A committee of Congress was appointed to confer with the chemist and test his discovery. He exhibited to the committee a small phial containing a colorless liquid, which, he claimed, possessed one of the most wonderful qualities ever known; and, he said, that sitting in the gallery of the House of Representatives in this city, he could cast the phial into the centre of the hall and kill every man on the floor in two minutes. The committee were incredulous, but when the chemist offered to leave the room and make a bet that if the phial should drop on the floor it would kill every one of them, they seemed satisfied and respectfully declined to make any such test. The chemist then, as the report goes, placed upon the mantle a handkerchief previously prepared, and the party left the room. At the moment promised the handkerchief was destroyed by spontaneously burning. As a still farther test, a number of cats were placed in an apartment and the phial of liquid upset. All the cats were instantly killed. The committee finally reported that the tests had been satisfactory, and they were in favor of treating with the chemist. Upon that a bureau was formed, and the chemist created a Brigadier General and placed at the head of it, but the collapse of the war prevented the use of this engine of destruction in the Northern cities.

SARATOGA.

Barnard Impeachment Trial.

SATURDAY, July 6.—Judge Barnard, at the opening of the Court of Impeachment, stated that he had not resigned, and did not intend to resign, but should abide by the result of his trial, whatever that result might be.

Clark Bell, a lawyer, detailed the litigations of the Union Pacific Railway.

Andy Garvey, the ring plasterer, testified to doing work in Barnard's house, and that he applied to other judges for work, but did not obtain it.

The counsel endeavored to question Garvey as to his connection with the ring frauds, of which Garvey had incidentally stated he was innocent, but the court ruled it out.

Judge Barnard was put on the stand. He testified that he considered, as a Supreme Court Judge, he had a right at any time and anywhere in the State to issue an order, and had always done so. Witness said he paid for the chairs which came from the manufacturer employed by Erie at the time he ordered them of Fisk. He had not paid Garvey for plastering his house, because no bill had been presented.

Witness stated the circumstance of ordering the chairs; he saw them at the Erie office; liked them; asked Fisk to get some for him and paid for them; said he had never paid Garvey for plastering his house, because the latter had not presented any bill. Witness denied having used the vulgar language attributed to him; he had never had any corrupt understanding with any parties to any suit before him.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Election Returns Coming in Slowly.

GOVERNORSHIP STILL IN DOUBT.

WILMINGTON, N. C., August 6.—The following official majorities are received: New Hanover, revised, 1,362 for Caldwell; a Republican gain of 475. Brunswick, 90 for Caldwell; a Republican gain of 89. Onslow, 400 for Merrimon; a Democratic loss of 20.

The official vote of but few counties can be got here, as nearly all are sent to Raleigh. The Conservatives here are all very hopeful and relying on western counties to elect Merrimon. Many leading Republicans concede Merrimon's election by a small majority. The Star and Journal both claim Merrimon's election by about 800.

RALEIGH, N. C., August 6.—Official returns to-day from counties already heard from change but little the aggregate estimate heretofore given. The Democrats still hold some six hundred and fifty on Shipps, a Democratic majority over 1870, with eleven counties to hear from, which counties, it is conceded, will hold the vote of 1870.

The Republicans are despondent to-day, and the Democrats hopeful. Both parties figure with approximating results. Information from the west this evening will doubtless decide the matter, with the chances at present in favor of Merrimon.

RALEIGH, N. C., August 6.—All the counties have been heard from except ten in the west. The vote thus far for Caldwell is even with Shipp's majority of 1870, and in the remaining counties the candidates stand an even chance. Eight of the counties to hear from are in the Eighth District, and eleven counties already heard from in that district gave Merrimon a net gain of over 100 each. Everything turns upon this, and the Democrats are hopeful of maintaining their gains. The Republicans are quite confident, and claim Caldwell's election.

WILMINGTON, N. C., August 6.—The following official majorities have just been received at the Star office, direct from the Register of Deeds of the several counties: Rockingham, Merrimon's majority, 352; Burke, Merrimon's majority, 169; Gates, Merrimon's majority, 242; Parson, Merrimon's majority, 282; Nash, Caldwell's majority, 9.

A comparison of the official votes of counties, received at the Star office, with the unofficial vote on which the estimates are based at Raleigh, show errors in at least half the counties. In the report of Union county alone there is an error in Merrimon's favor of 165 votes. It is believed here that nothing but the official count will decide the result. Both parties seem hopeful to-night.

NEW YORK, August 6.—Judge Merrimon telegraphed to Alex. K. McClure, of Philadelphia, at 4 P. M. to-day, as follows: "I believe I am elected by a majority of from five hundred to one thousand."

NEW YORK.

Alleged Cruelty in a Lunatic Asylum.

Movements of the President—Extensive Boulevard—Health of Chief Justice Chase.

NEW YORK, August 6, 1872.

MOVEMENTS OF THE PRESIDENT.

President Grant leaves the Thousand Islands to-morrow morning for Long Branch, by way of Ogdensburg and Lake Champlain. A public reception will be given him at Ogdensburg.

ALLEGED CRUELTY IN A LUNATIC ASYLUM.

A banker named J. P. Van Vieck, who has been incarcerated in the Bloomingdale lunatic asylum over a year, but who nevertheless asserts himself to have been sane all the while, has commenced legal proceedings, which he states will expose the horrors of that institution. His counsel have obtained writs of habeas corpus for the release of two ladies who have also been incarcerated there on certificates said to be bogus, and who are alleged to be perfectly sane. George R. Irwin, late keeper at the asylum, prints an affidavit relating many cruelties, resulting in death, by parties connected with the asylum; that the food is poor, that the inmates receive foul treatment, and that vile practices generally obtain there.

CHIEF JUSTICE CHASE'S HEALTH.

The Tribune will state to-morrow on authority that the lately published reports that Chief Justice Chase is in a very critical condition, that he is suffering from a complication of acute disorders, and is fast losing his intellect through softening of the brain, are alike unwarranted and wanton. The Chief Justice has been suffering since his arrival at Narragansett Pier with a slight malarial attack, the seeds of which he probably took with him from Washington, but his brain is as unclouded as ever.

BODY FOUND.

The body of Rev. Henry Halleck, of Brooklyn, was found to-day at Coenties' slip. He left home four months ago, after cashing a draft from India of 500 pounds. Only Twenty-eight dollars were found on his person. It is suspected he was robbed and thrown into the water.

EXTENSIVE BOULEVARD.

The city authorities have decided to continue the boulevard from One Hundred and Twenty-ninth street away into Westchester county, which is a measure of great importance to the development of the upper part of the island.

THE ERIE VICE PRESIDENCY.

It is authoritatively stated that General Diven has no intention of withdrawing from the Erie Vice Presidency.

DEATH OF A VETERAN TURFITE.

Hicks Post, a veteran turfite, died at Gravesend to-day.

OUT-DOOR SPORTS.

The Turf.

LONG BRANCH, August 6.—At the second day's race there was a full attendance. The track was in excellent condition.

The first race, for the Thespian stakes, valued at $500, added to the sweepstakes, $50 each, three quarters of a mile; entries: Medora, Tom Bowling, Kitty Clark, colt Dolorsa, and Asterold. The colt Tom Bowling won by several lengths; time, 1:16¾.

The second was a running race, purse $500, for all ages; a mile and a half; entries: Cynthian, Sanford, Henrietta, Albuera, King Henry, Impecunious, and Gerald. The race won by Albuera; time 2:43¼.

The third was for the Long Branch stakes, value $800, added to the sweepstakes, $50 each; two miles; entries: Winesap, Midday, Preakness, and Aleroy; won by Midday, Preakness second. The race was so close that it was thought to be a dead heat; time 3:45¼.

BUFFALO, Aug. 6.—The seventh annual meeting of the Buffalo Park Association convened to-day under favorable auspices. About seven thousand persons were present.

First race, four year olds, six horses entered, but five started. Katy Golddust was the winner. The following is a summary:

No 1—Purse $1,000, for four year olds and under; $600 to the first, $300 to the second and $100 to the third. L. L. Dorsey's g. f. Katy Golddust, 1, 2, 1, 1; S. S. Carpenter's blk. s. Rowes Tommy, 2, 1, 2, 2; George Lindenberger's ch. . Emerson, 4, 3, 3, 3; Rufus P. White's dk. br. g. Gus, 3, 4, dist.; Lapton's br. c. Tornado, dist. Time, 2:38, 2,38½, 2:32¼, and 2:34.

Second race; eleven entries; ten started; won by Sleepy John in three straight heats. Summary No. 2—Purse of $10,000 for horses that never trotted better than 2:27; $5,000 to the first, $2,500 to the second, $1,500 to the third, and $1,000 to the fourth; Sleepy John, 1, 1, 1. Flora Belle, 4, 2, 4; Grand Duchess, 3, 4, 6; Red Cloud, 5, 3, 5; Dauntless, 8, 5, 2; George, 2, 9, 7; James H. Burke, 7, 10, 3; Dennis, 9, 6, 8; North Star Mambrino, 10, 7, 9; Lula, 6, 8, dist. Time, 2:25, 2:25 and 2:25½.

Third race; purse $4,000; not finished, the third heat being declared off. Crown Prince came in first, Camors second and Grace third; time 2:26¾, 2:26½, 2:26½ and 2:28. The race will be finished to-morrow.

Fourth race, for the Schell cup, mile heats, three in five entries; Susan Ann and Brennus; Susan Ann won in three straight heats; time, 1:51, 1:53, and 1:56¼.

CASUALTIES.

Thirty Thousand Dollar Fire.

CINCINNATI, August 6.—Joseph M. Storey's extensive saw mills, huge piles of lumber, and three dwellings adjoining, all situated on the corner of Vance and Front streets, were destroyed by fire this morning. The loss was thirty thousand dollars.

SMOTHERED TO DEATH.

EVANSVILLE, August 6.—A special to the Journal this morning, says that two brothers named Peter and Matthew George were smothered to death in Newcomb's mines, at Newburg, by choke damp. Matthew was smothered in attempting to save his brother, and two other persons in attempting to save them came near losing their lives.

SUDDEN DEATH.

EVANSVILLE, IND., August 6.—Henry Nychans, an old citizen of St. Wendel, Posey county, about seventeen miles from this city, fell from his chair at his niece's residence to-day, and died almost instantly.

TERRIBLE TORNADO.

HARRISBURG, August 6.—A terrible tornado occurred here last night. Many buildings were injured and hundreds of trees were blown down.

DIED FROM INJURIES.

MILWAUKEE, August 6.—Wm. Kennedy, an inmate of the National Asylum, who was run over by the cars on the 5th inst., died last night.

RAILWAY COLLISION.

ST. LOUIS, August 6.—A freight and stock train collided two miles west of Hermann, on the Missouri Pacific Railroad to-day. Dan Allison, one of the engineers, was badly scalded, and a large number of cattle killed or injured.

THE CAPITAL.

The President's Reply to an Invitation to Visit Chattanooga.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.

WASHINGTON, August 6, 1872.

THE PRESIDENT'S REPLY TO AN INVITATION TO VISIT CHATTANOOGA.

President Grant addressed the following letter to Samuel Baird, William Crutchfield, W. P. Rathburn, and J. J. Bryan, a Committee on behalf of the city of Chattanooga:

Utica, July 31.—Gentlemen—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of resolutions from the Board, Mayor, Aldermen, and Board of Trade of Chattanooga, extending to myself and Cabinet an invitation to spend a portion of the summer vacation in their city and at Lookout Mountain. I am not prepared at present to accept it, either on my part or on the part of the Cabinet; but I will, in a very few days, lay the invitation before the gentlemen embraced in it, and will then give his Honor, the Mayor, a definite answer. It would afford me very great pleasure to visit the people and city of Chattanooga.

I return my sincere thanks to the Mayor, Alderman and Board of Trade for the invitation which they have given me to do so.

U. S. GRANT.

To U. S. Chamberlain and others, Board of Trade, Chattanooga.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.

Continued rain with south-westerly winds on the upper lakes to-night, extending eastward over the lower lakes on Wednesday, with clearing weather and northerly to westerly winds in the north-west and upper Mississippi valley, and south-eastward to the lower Ohio valley; south-westerly winds with cloudy weather from Ohio to New York, and thence north-easward over New England; partly cloudy weather with occasional rains and south-easterly winds on the south Atlantic, and northerly to easterly winds and partly cloudy weather on the gulf.

CRIMINALITIES.

Horrible Murder.

CLINTON, ILLS., August 6.—A horrible murder occurred west of Falls City on Monday morning. The victim was the wife of John Matthewson. Matthewson and a hired man left the house at daylight to do harvest work some distance from the house, and did not return until night, when the body of the murdered wife was found in the cellar, with her head cut. The murderer is not known, but suspicion rests on a man who was near the house that morning inquiring for work. The detectives are on his track. The particulars as near as we can ascertain them, are that the murderer went into the house about eight o'clock in the morning and ordered breakfast, and while Mrs. Matthewson was preparing it he undertook to ravish her, and she resisted. Her clothing and her person showed unmistakable signs that there was a terrible struggle for life. Her hand was horribly cut, as if she had tried to grasp the knife from the murderer's hand. The family is very respectable and among the first in the county. She had been married but a few months. Great excitement prevails, and mounted horsemen are scouring the country in search of the murderer. A reward of one thousand dollars is offered for the murderer.

SUICIDE.

ST. LOUIS, August 6.—Nicholas C. Cinnett, a prosperous merchant of Chicago previous to the fire, but ruined by that calamity, committed suicide here to-day by shooting himself.

BOSTON.

National Educational Association.

BOSTON, August 6.—The National Educational Association commenced a three days' session in this city to-day. The opening addresses were made by Mayor Gaston, Rev. R. C. Waterston, Francis W. Underwood, and Mr. White, President of the Association.

In the evening an address on "Methods of Moral Instructions in Public Schools" was delivered by Dr. A. D. Mayo, of Cincinnati.

The Association elected Mr. E. P. Fross, of Illinois, Assistant Secretary, Chauncy R. Stokes, of Ohio, Assistant Treasurer, and R. Woodbury, of Maine, Second Assistant Treasurer.

TEXAS.

Mexican Outrages.

BROWNSVILLE, August 6.—Captain King, the largest stock raiser in Texas, was attacked six miles from his ranche by a band of eight Mexicans. A German named Specht was killed and another escaped. It is believed these men were sent to murder King, to prevent him from appearing before the Depredation Commissioners at Brownsville. The commissioners express astonishment at the crimes and outrages the Mexicans have perpetrated on the people of Texas, as shown by the testimony taken.

VIRGINIA.

No Duel in Prospect.

WARRENTON, August 6.—There has been no meeting between Col. Moseby and Dr. Withers, and a duel is not expected. It is exceedingly annoying to both gentlemen, as it is to their friends, that irritable and sensational rumors have been published concerning them. Colonel Moseby has gone to Jordan Springs, and Dr. Withers is attending to his business in Warrenton.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS,

From Various Points.

—The formal opening of the Cincinnati and Terre Haute Railroad took place yesterday.

—Dr. De La Rooke, a well known druggist of Memphis, committed suicide on Monday night with chloroform during a fit of mania a potu.

—The principal members of the Japanese Embassy sailed yesterday for Europe. Salutes were fired as the steamer passed down the harbor of Boston.

—The evidence before the American Commission, in Brownsville, Texas, shows that the cattle stolen by Mexicans near Brownsville numbered sixty thousand, and were valued at one million dollars.

—A Bristol (Rhode Island) dispatch says that Chief Justice Chase is very ill with Bright's disease of the kidneys, and that by the advice of his physician he goes to the White Mountains, accompanied by Senator Sprague.

—Paris mail advices of the 24th ult., state that in the office of the Peuple Francais thousands of Imperialist papers were seized and voluminous secret correspondence also discovered, together with pamphlets intended for distribution in the army.

—Constantinople advices of the 24th ult., state that the Turkish authorities ordered two agents of the British Bible Society to leave Borussia. Their books were seized and the sale of all Protestant works prohibited. The British Embassy at Constantinople is investigating the affair.

SMITH'S FERRY, PA.

Sad Death of a Young Man—He is Found Drowned in Six and a Half Inches of Water.

[Special Dispatch to Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SMITH'S FERRY, August 6, 1872.

A young man, Daniel Harvey, aged nineteen years, was found dead yesterday in an oil tank. Squire Alrny held an inquest on him, and a verdict of accidental drowning was rendered. As there were but six and one-half inches of water in the tank, it is generally presumed by the citizens that he committed suicide. The deceased bore a good character, and his sad death has cast a gloom over the entire neighborhood.

"CAMPING OUT."

Life in the Woods—A Few Hints for the Toilworn and Weary.

Within the past few days a number of parties have been organized in the city with a view to "camping out" for a brief season, and already some of them are on the way to the chosen camping ground. When properly managed there is no better method of relaxation and recuperation from care than to spend a few days in the woods, where the pure, fresh air, the freedom from the conventional restraints of the summer resorts, the verdure of the trees and rustle of the foliage, the fragrance of pine, music of birds, cool siestas under the trees and a hundred varied sights and sounds all combine to lend a witchery and a charm to the vacation thus indulged in. This is presuming that the weather is pleasant; but should it prove otherwise the "campers-out" will find the time—if proper arrangements are made for comfort—pass as pleasantly as in the more sheltered resorts, for what is more disagreeable than one of the so-called summer resorts on a rainy day?

To those who contemplate a camping season, and to those who have already commenced, a few brief hints, from one who has had some experience, may be welcome.

1. When in camp, the tent is your house. Keep it as clean, by frequent sweeping, as you would your dwelling; see that a small trench around it provides for the drainage in case of rain; and regularly roll up the sides every morning in fine weather, remembering that tents become unhealthy, if not constantly and thoroughly dried. Air and sun materials used for bedding, if possible. At night and in wet weather, slacken the cords of your tent, to prevent the tent-pegs being drawn or the pole broken.

2. Bear in mind that "cleanliness is next to godliness" in camp as well as out of it, and keep the person clean by frequent bathing or washing. Have the hair of the head cut closely, and wash the whole scalp plentifully in cold water every morning. Wear woolen socks and moderately loose shoes.

3. When straw can be obtained it should be made into mats, and not left loose in the bottom of the tent. Mats may be made as follows: The straw is twisted into ropes, two rows of tent pegs are driven into the ground parallel to one another and two feet apart, and the ropes passed round the pegs to form the web. Other straw ropes are interlaced, so as to form the woof, and an excellent mat is made in a short time. Each man should have two mats, one for his head and the other for his legs.

4. To make Tea. See that your kettle is perfectly clean. Put in your tea when the water is boiling fast. The lid should then be put on, and the pot placed besides, (but not on) the fire for 4 or 5 minutes before serving it out.

5. To make Coffee. Heat the coffee in the lid of the kettle; then put it in the kettle and pour the boiling water on it, leaving it to stand for five minutes, when it will be fit for use. When made, the dregs should be collected and well boiled. If this decoction is poured over fresh coffee, the result of the second making will be strong and aromatic. To clear the coffee some cold water should be poured in from a height.

If parties prefer a bush or log house to a tent they are very easily constructed and fully as comfortable. A very good camp bed can be made by fastening two parallel logs securely, about six feet apart, and nailing a strip of canvass from one to the other.

CHINESE IN CALIFORNIA.

He is There, and the Question is to Make The Best of Him.

[From the San Francisco Republican.]

Say what he will, whether we like it or not, for weal or for woe, the Chinaman is with us, and is bound to take no small part in the history of California's future.

Their numbers are not increasing at present, but will probably do so as the facilities for their coming are enlarged, and the commercial relations between the two countries become more close and profitable.

"John" now prevades all the land. In some places he possesses whole mining districts abandoned by white men, and in others he does nearly all the labor of the husbandman. He builds railroads and digs canals, cooks, washes, minds babies, makes cigars, shoes, &c., &c., and in whatever pursuit he follows he is industrious—will work longer and cheaper, and live more frugal than any other class of laborers. We do not say this by way of eulogy, but merely state a fact known and acknowledged by all.

For years in San Francisco the Chinamen were almost exclusively engaged as laundrymen. Then they came to be employed as house servants, now they have taken to almost every other branch of industry, and succeed in nearly all. They almost monopolize the fish and vegetable peddling business, and have an almost as complete monopoly of the slipper and cigar making. They are also sign-painters, bag-sewers, carpenters, carvers, cabinet makers, &c.

Of course they will continue to enter into these and other branches of manual industry, until scarcely any is exempt from their influences, perhaps not even the printing office. We saw a Chinaman compositor at work in a Placerville printing office twelve years ago, and a very fair compositor he was, too. And here, while we think of it, let us say that there is, and has been for years, a Chinese bar-keeper in a stylish saloon (owned by a Democrat) in Sacramento. He is an adept in manipulating drinks, and speaks good English, wears spectacles, and is generally popular.

That many of the customs of the Chinese are objectionable there is no question. The best way to remove this objection will be to teach him better.

Measures are being taken to this end here and elsewhere. Native Americans of Chinese descent are becoming quite numerous. These when they grow up, believe us, will not long adhere to the chopstick and cue. These American Chinamen of the present will teach the next generation of their people, our customs, our laws, and our trades. As they become more numerous, we shall become more familiar with, and less hostile to them. Even now you will meet upon the sidewalks between eleven and half-past eleven o'clock—their dinner hour—almost as many Chinese as white workmen.

We can't stop this sort of thing, gentlemen, however much we may regret it. It is recorded in the book of fate. "What can't be cured must be endured." The Chinaman is with us and must be of us in the future. So let us act accordingly and make the best of what seems to be the great social problem of California.

Absolute Security! OVER TEN PER CENT. INCOME. ARKANSAS STATE LOAN. A Limited Number Offered at 70 CENTS AND ACCRUED INTEREST.

These Bonds were issued under act of the Legislature for the purpose of assisting the "Arkansas Central Railway," in accordance with Section 6 of the Constitution of the State of Arkansas, which provides as follows: "The credit of the State or counties shall never be loaned for any purpose without the consent of the people thereof expressed through the ballot box," which act was submitted to the people at the general election held in November, 1868, and unanimously ratified by them. The Legislature of the State has no power to grant any additional aid whatever, consequently the debt of the State cannot be increased except by amending the Constitution through a vote of the whole people.

As an additional security, these Bonds are guaranteed by the Arkansas Central Railway by special indorsement, recorded as a mortgage in every county through which the line passes, acting as a direct lien upon the property of the Company, its Real Estate, Rolling Stock and Franchises.

It is recited in every bond: "The faith and credit of this State are hereby solemnly and irrevocably pledged for the payment of the interest and the redemption of the principal of this bond."

Every possible safeguard surrounds them to protect the holder from the dangers of corruption and fraud.

Unlike ordinary Railway Bonds, those now offered are negotiable at any time on the New York Stock Exchange, as may be observed from the daily stock quotations.

The Bonds are of the denomination of $1000 each, payable to bearer, and are therefore negotiable by simple delivery. The interest coupons attached to each bond are payable semi-annually at the office of the Union Trust Co., in New York, by the Treasurer of the State, on the 1st day of October and April in each year, until the principal of the Bonds are redeemed at par in 1899.

Address, Williams & Bostwick, Bankers, No. 49 Wall street, New York, or the ARKANSAS CENTRAL RAILWAY CO., No. 12 Pine street, New York.

Maps, Pamphlets and Circulars, giving full particulars of this loan, can be had on application to HART, CAUGHEY & CO., AND IRA B. McVAY & CO., Bankers, Agents in Pittsburgh. au7:w24-MWF

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 7, 1872.

BONDS at Frankfort 96¼.

PETROLEUM at Antwerp 46½f.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 115¼@115½.

THE official returns only, will determine the result in North Carolina. The great Liberal victory has dwindled to very meagre proportions, if not altogether wiped out. The burthen of the telegrams yesterday was that the Republican candidate for Governor had been elected by a small majority, with four Republicans and four Democrats to Congress. The Legislature is Democratic by a gerrymandering process. There has been a great deal of gambling on the result at the east, and this may account for conflicting reports. Some of them have undoubtedly been sent to catch wagers.

GREAT BRITAIN has a magnificent empire in her far eastern colonies. In 1870 the four colonies of Victoria, Queensland, New South Wales and New Zealand, shipped nearly $53,000,000 in gold, and all the colonies, during the same year, shipped over $50,000,000 worth of wool. They have over 70,000,000 sheep, 4,000,000 horned cattle, and 500,000 horses; and nearly 3,500,000 acres of land in cultivation, of which 1,500,000 are in wheat. The debts of all the colonies exceed $200,000,000. The exports were $154,180,000 against $146,425,000 imports. Victoria, with Melbourne for its capital, is the leading colony, containing a total population of 724,725. The population of all the colonies is 1,884,108—equal to that of the State of Indiana, and three times as great as that of California.

THE British government, it has been officially stated in Parliament, will commence prosecutions against the Roman Catholic priests reported by Judge Keogh as having been guilty of undue influence and intimidation in the Galway election for a member of the House of Commons. Among the clericals to be prosecuted are the Bishop of Clonfert, and nineteen out of twenty-two priests so severely denounced by Judge Keogh. In the cases of the Archbishop of Tuam and the Bishop of Galway, the government did not think the evidence sufficient. This proceeding will probably intensify the bitter feeling created in Ireland by Judge Keogh's severe censure from the bench. But the government will be sustained by the better class of Catholics, who are decidedly averse to priests assuming political management. This clerical interference is one of the curses of Ireland, and operates to the prejudice of judicious and liberal reforms.

NEW YORK city is pursued by a new pestilential horror, which the doctors call mucidines. A stranger on entering the metropolis during the summer months will notice a peculiar odor, which is not familiar to him. It hangs about the streets, and taints the atmosphere of the stores and houses. This subtle, septic stink was a mystery to the New Yorkers themselves, until one Dr. Birdsdahl came out with a pamphlet, explaining the matter on scientific principles. He shows that the disagreeable affluvium comes from the petrefying paste which bill-posters industriously smear over all the bill-boards, dead walls, curb-stones, and awning-posts of the city. About 120,000 square yards are covered with this putrescent matter every day, and medical experts have succeeded in tracing the prevalence of cerebro spinal meningitis and other scourges, directly to the influence of these floating germs, which they call mucedines. The doctors killed several dogs and cats with the stuff by way of experiment, and are fully convinced that these germs are present in fearful activity in the annual epidemic which sweeps off so many children in the metropolis.

THE main body of active and prominent recruits to the Greeleyites, from the Republican party, have been furnished by two classes; those that have been dismissed from office and those that failed to get office for themselves or friends. This is "what is the matter" with Greeley himself; Fenton and Trumbull are afflicted the same way, and many others of less prominence. These recruits have been active in charging the Administration with increasing the number of offices, so as to give places to the servants of the party. As usual, they fail to furnish proof, but content themselves with loudly asserting the charge. Nearly every department of the Government shows a large reduction of force under General Grant. Only in those branches where the growing business of the country demands an increase of force has any taken place. The War Department, the Navy Department, the Treasury, have all been largely reduced in clerical force. To show the reduction that has taken place in the internal revenue service alone we append the following:

	March 1, '69.	Dec. 1, '71.
Assessors	240	232
Collectors	240	232
Supervisors	56	25
Detectives	24	22
Assistant Assessors	2,746	1,291
Gaugers	742	887
Storekeepers	1,116	781
Surveyors	160	Jan. 1, '92, 00
Tobacco Inspectors	759	134
Total	6,052	3,804

Everybody conversant with the management of the machinery of politics knows that there are no more efficient emissaries for such a purpose than these numerous, active and locally influential men in the employ of the Government. Yet here we see a President—charged, it must be remembered, with a determination to perpetuate himself by means of the office-holders—deliberately cutting off the heads of 2,248 in one bureau alone. This one fact is of more value to thinking citizens, in enabling them to form a good judgment, than a dozen political speeches.

GREELEY'S POLICY IF ELECTED.

Mr. Greeley, if chosen President, will be compelled to rely solely on the Democracy of the House of Representatives for congressional support of his administration. Under the most adverse circumstances a Republican majority in the Senate will remain a fixed fact for the next four years. We assume that the House elected this fall will be of the same politics as the successful candidate for President—Greeleyite, if the philosopher is successful, and Republican if General Grant succeeds. Although in some instances Liberals have been nominated in close Republican districts, yet four-fifths of the nominations for Congress, so far made by the opposition, are old-line Democrats—either the identical men who opposed the war and reconstruction at every step, or their legitimate successors in Congress. The election of Greeley certainly implies that the control of the House of Representatives will pass to this body of reactionary and dangerous politicians. They will be masters of the situation and masters of Greeley. The Republican members will not affiliate with his administration, and the necessary Congressional backing must come from the old Bourbons. No one supposes for an instant it will be a free gift. The price will be demanded and must be paid, or the President will find himself without a party in Congress of a dozen members. In fact, he will be in a worse position than John Tyler was when that accidental executive deserted the Whig party. It is apparent that in this condition of affairs Greeley will succumb. Not possessed of any great amount of political courage, or persistency in any line of action, he will be unequal to the task of building up a new party, and must inevitably fall under the control of his Democratic supporters, who outnumber his Liberal Republican adherents in the proportion of a hundred to one.

The New York World defends its advocacy of Greeley by saying that his election carries with it, as a necessary accompaniment, the securing of a Democratic majority in the national House and a majority of the Legislatures, by whom the United States Senate would be threatened. That is the price that is now being paid by the liberal Republicans for Democratic support of Greeley. But with Greeley elected, and a Democratic House of Representatives, negotiations must be re-opened where they will be left off on the evening of the Presidential election with the Democratic ballots in the box for Greeley. The curtain will use on the second act of the drama, and the rise have already been rehearsed. The administration will be Democratic—its policy Democratic, pro-southern and free trade—its appointments will be Democratic, and civil service reform will simply consist in putting out of office Republicans and putting in office Democrats. That will be the upshot of the Greeley administration.

In Kentucky, where there is considerable dissatisfaction at Greeley's nomination among the rampant old Bourbons, the leading Greeley stumpers have found it necessary to uncover their tactics, and plainly state the policy of the future in the event of Greeley's election. At a recent largely attended barbacue in Owen county—a Berks region of the dark and bloody ground—Col. Thomas L. Jones, ex-member of Congress and a man of mark in his State, made the following declarations, which we find reported in the Cincinnati Commercial:

"Greeley would become in fact a Democratic President, and the Democrats would elect a simon-pure Democrat for the next four years following him. And in this administration the Democrats would have control, for they could not be expected to give way to the Liberal minority. Greeley could not get along without the great men of the Democratic party, and he would have a Democratic Cabinet and Democrats would represent the country abroad. At least half, if not two-thirds of the offices in the gift of the President, would go to the Democrats."

That is the quiet talk of the Democrats all over the land. It is the current of opinion in Democratic circles in Pennsylvania, and if not delivered from the stump or urged by the newspapers here, the reason is merely one of expediency. It will not do to frighten off the small per centage of Liberals supporting Greeley, without whose aid the Democrats would abandon the campaign as hopeless, and vindicate their consistency by voting for the nominee of the coming Louisville Convention. The Kentucky orator showed the facts fairly as they exist, and we could still further sustain them, if necessary, by citations from hundreds of Democratic speeches and newspapers. Even Greeley, in letters written since his nomination to satisfy discontented Democrats, makes promises in regard to the distribution of patronage that amply warrant the declarations contained in the above extract.

This is the entertainment to which Republicans are invited. The end justifies the means argue the Democratic wire-pullers, and they excuse their hypocrisy by the stale cry of "anything to beat Grant." It means the resurrection or the Democratic party of ante-war times with all its old policies and dangers to the republic. This will be the situation that Greeley will be compelled to accept, and this is the price he pays for Democratic support.

THERE are nine polar expeditions in the field this summer, and if the great problem is not solved by some of them it might as well be given up as unsolvable and unprofitable. The Philadelphia Inquirer thus enumerates them: First, Captain Hall is moving northward by Baffin's bay. Second, Captain Tobiesen, in a Norwegian ship, is endeavoring to complete the circumnavigation of Spitsbergen. Third, Mr. Whymper is conducting an English expedition into the interior of Greenland. Fourth, Count Wilczeh leads in an Austrian exploration of Spitsbergen, to be followed by two others. Fifth, Sevend Foyn has a Norwegian vessel in the Siberian ocean. Sixth a French expedition, under Captain Ambert, with the Norwegian mariner, Mack, is attempting to reach the pole by way of the Karian sea. Seventh and eighth, two Russian parties are to pass the winter in Nova Zembla. Ninth, Captain Nordenskiold has a Swedish expedition moving in the same direction.

THE great French literary and critical magazine, the "Revue des deux Mondes," lately devoted a considerable space to the critical examination of Walt Whitman's poems, and essayed to give the French mind some idea of his style and merits. It has more recently taken up Mark Twain as the representative of American humor, and embodies in its article several translations from his writings that are amusing. The "Jumping Frog" is one of these, and is introduced to the French reader as "The Jumping Frog of the County of Calaveras." The Revue says: "Mark Twain possesses, in a supreme degree, the humor which his contemporaries designate as jolly, bluffy, funny, telling, queer, epithets which are untranslatable," and we admit that "bluffy" is quite untranslatable to Englishmen and Frenchmen alike. The reviewer takes the "Innocents Abroad" quite seriously, as indicating a hopeless incapacity in Mark to comprehend art, to sympathize with the antique, or appreciate the aesthetic.

THE Cavour Society of Italy, has recently published some remarkable statistics going to prove that public education in Rome is still almost entirely in the hands of the clergy, acting uder the influence of the authorities of the Vatican. The Society state that there are in the city of Rome 122 schools for boys, with 7,941 pupils, and 161 for girls, with 11,380 pupils, for which the Government is yearly subsidized to the extent of 143,346 lire. In these schools it is asserted that the education afforded the Roman youth is calculated to give them "anti-patriotic and anti-national tendencies, false notions of Italian history, childish superstititions, and very little real knowledge." The Society have therefore called upon their President to memorialize the new Minister of Education, and to urge the introduction of some new and efficient system of school inspection.

DURING the past six months, an anti-tobacco league has been formed in France, whose members are taking very active steps against the use of the weed, on the ground of its having greatly contributed to the degeneracy of Frenchmen, and their consequent failure in the last campaign. How they explain the success of the Germans, who certainly smoke quite as much as their enemy, is not stated. A comment made on the proceedings in question is, that the present is an unfortunate time to commence operations, because, taking one year with another, tobacco yields a revenue to France of forty millions of dollars. A league against absinthe and the so-called cognac of second-rate cabarets, would be much more to the purpose.

THREE reasons are assigned why bodies drowned in Lake Tahoe, Nevada, never come to the surface. First, lack of buoyancy consequent upon the great rarity of the water; second, the great coldness of the water, which at a depth of 200 feet is like the arctic heart of an iceberg, freezing a body and preventing the origin of gas caused by decay; and third, the great pressure of pure water upon anything sunk to a great depth in it. It is believed that by the time a man's body has been suspended for a week at a depth of about 200 feet, the compression of the water has reduced its size to that of a child.

LETTER FROM IRELAND.

Summer Life in Dublin---Fashionable Resorts and Amusements.

The Absence of the Vice-Regal Court and Its Effect on Social Life—Topography of the Irish Capital—Merrion Square and Phoenix Park—Diverse Sentiment as to Judge Keogh—How the "Glorious Fourth" was Passed.

[Special Correspondence Pittsburgh Gazette.]

DUBLIN, July 22, 1872.

There has been so little, comparatively, occurring here for some time, that I have not felt as though I was warranted in writing to you. Events are not now much more frequent, for it is the dull season for all sorts of things, from murders and outrages to balls and dinners, but I suppose you might have what is going, and it is a good time to say a little about Dublin itself.

THE IRISH CAPITAL NOT A CAPITAL.

This city is rather unique in its way, being a capital and not a capital. That is, it has more life and metropolitanism than most towns of three hundred thousand inhabitants, being the chief city and the nominal seat of government of Ireland; but it is, nevertheless, most undoubtedly and undeniably under the mighty shadow of London, which forces it into the position of a provincial town. The vice-regal court, which all agree is but the mockery of a real court, has been out of town almost all the time since I have been here, so that I can say nothing of it from personal experience. The season here is managed so that the Lord Lieutenant and such other grandees as Dublin can boast of, can perform their social duties and yet get up to London to partake of the richer cakes and stronger ale which are to be had there in May, June and July. So we hear, through the fashion news of the daily journals, of the Lord Lieutenant and Lady Spencer figuring prominently in all sorts of London gaieties, while the vice-regal lodge and Dublin castle are silent and empty, and the local "upper-ten-thousand," who have the entree of the festivals which take place in those mansions, have retired to Kingstown, Bray and Waterford, or are rusticating in their country estates, if they happen to have any.

Nevertheless Dublin is not as empty-looking as it was when Thackeray visited it in July, forty years ago, and saw only three or four people on the streets and described the horses of the equestrian statues, with their front feet up, as if anxious and ready to trot out of town after the bipeds without feathers. It may be because railways have made it easy for out-of-town people to come up and go down again the same day; or it may be because business is brisker and more flourishing than it used to be; but it is certainly the case that two or three of the more central streets and quays of the city are very lively, and often actually thronged. I have frequently had to wait four or five minutes to get a chance to cross Westmoreland or Sackville streets, near Carlisle bridge, and then get the chance only by loss of dignity and risk of limbs. During that part of the day that part of Dublin is as impassable as Broadway.

TOPOGRAPHY OF DUBLIN.

Perhaps to understand this you should know something about the topography of Dublin. The city is divided by the narrow tidal river Liffey, which is walled in on both sides by massive granite walls twenty feet high, and four or five miles long, each. For more than a mile from its mouth the Liffey, and the various docks which open off of it, are crowded with vessels, but Carlisle bridge marks the head of navigation, as nothing with masts can pass under it. All the way along on top of these river walls run the quays on one side open to the river, on the other closely built up with shops and warehouses; the custom house, (a grand building,) the Four Courts, and one or two churches. And these quays are almost always crowded with all sorts of vehicles, for, besides the traffic consequent to the neighborhood of the shipping and wholesale business of the town, at the western end of the north side is the South-western Railway station; at the eastern end of the north side is the Belfast and North of Ireland station, and at the western end of the same side is the main gateway of the Phoenix park.

The chief streets of Dublin—the Broadways—are Grafton, Westmoreland and Sackville streets, corresponding in line almost exactly with Market, Sixth and Federal streets at home. Grafton street starts from north side of Stephens Green—a noble open space a mile square—and runs to Trinity College and the Bank of Ireland; a narrow asphaet-paved street, lined with good shops from end to end. At the College it takes a slight turn, doubles its width, changes its name to Westmoreland street and continues for two squares, to the Liffey, still lined on both sides with elegant shops. Here it crosses Carlisle bridge, a fine stone structure solidly paved and about as long as one span of our Allagheny Suspension bridge, and a good deal broader. On the other side of the bridge the street again doubles in width and becomes Sackville street—said to be the broadest street in Europe—which is so broad as to have the effect of dwarfing the houses on either side, which are occupied as shops, insurance offices, banks and hotels. This part of the street is about half a mile long, and half way up in the centre of the street is the Trafalgar monument, a Doric column, more than one hundred feet high, surmounted by a colossal statue of the one-armed hero, Nelson. These three streets are nearly always crowded, and especially in the neighborhood of the bridge which is the first means that the inhabitants of both sides of the lower part of the city have of crossing the river. There are a dozen bridges above but none below, and the rush and throng are often really tremendous.

MERRION SQUARE AND STEPHEN'S GREEN.

I think I have said enough of this sort to show what the main artery of Dublin is, but, to keep up the guide book style, which I hope has now made its positively first and only appearance in these pages, I will say a little more before I turn to another subject. Merrion square—the home of so many of Lever's heroines—and Stephen's Green, two fine squares, with the streets in their vicinity, used to be the favored haunts of the nobility, but since the "Union" a nobleman is comparatively a rarity here. London is the magnet which attracts them now, and, although a few have country seats in the suburbs, and legal lords and medical baronets are not infrequent, the houses which used to shelter the bluest blood have degenerated. Merrion square is still the headquarters of the creme de la creme, but the cream is not as rich as it once was. Stephen's green, too, is still regarded as a most desirable place to live, but a number of shops and lodging-houses have found place there, and most of the lordly old houses of the great noblemen have become public buildings. One is St. Vincent's hospital, one the Academy of Sciences, one the Roman Catholic University, etc. The house in which Lord Mornington lived, and in which the Duke of Wellington was born, is on Merrion street, between the square and the green, and is occupied by some public bodies connected with the Church of Ireland. South and east of these squares lies the most repectable part of the town, comparatively new, broad streets, trees, pleasant houses, and neat and verdant front yards and gardens. West of Stephen's Green is the old, squalid portion of the town, with narrow thoroughfares, houses gone to seed, dirty children, slatternly women, drunken men, vile odors, and the two cathedrals; for in all European cities where there are ancient cathedrals they are to be found in the most unpleasant neighborhoods, with poverty and squalor around them. North of the Liffey there are some good parts and some bad, but dwelling houses over there are somewhat at a discount, rents are generally lower, and though in the neighborhood of Rutland and Mountjoy squares society is as good and rents as high as any place else, the general tendency of growth and fashion is to the south side.

PHOENIX PARK.

It is scarcely necessary to speak of the Phoenix Park which has a world-wide fame. It is seventeen hundred acres in extent, pleasantly laid out in drives and walks which intersect beautiful lawns dotted with more beautiful clumps of trees. The planting of trees in clumps of six or eight, scattered here and there, was the result of an inspiration of genius, and the effect is most striking and lovely. There are also avenues and groves of hawthornes, cricket-grounds, and four or five handsome monuments, conspicuous among which is the massive granite obelisk to Wellington. There are hundreds of black and mottled fallow deer which roam about this great park in herds, and add much to its picturesqueness. And on a fine afternoon you can generally see dozens of riding parties, cantering over the grass—for grass does not grow here to be kept off of. This park is free to everybody and is very extensively used. The greens and squares in the heart of the city are surrounded by high iron fences and kept locked, and only persons living in houses facing on them have keys and are allowed to use them. An arrangement very pleasant to key-holders and very aggravating to the rest of the world.

SUMMER AMUSEMENTS.

And now let me drop the role of cicerone and tell you what little news I have. The great events of the past two weeks here, socially, were the rowing regatta on the Liffey at Ringsend, which occupied two days, and resulted in triumphs for Trinity college crews; and the Kingstown regatta for yachts which began last Monday, and continued through the week. Everybody went to Kingstown, the pier was a mile of good clothes with humanity inside of them; every boat was in use, and it was a beautiful sight. The weather favored the display, for we have had a rain-less week, a phenomenon which surprised and delighted every one and gave the dust an unwonted holiday which it took advantage of. During the coming week an inter-national rose-show, to last two days, in the exhibition palace gardens, is to be the chief attraction. By way of in-door amusements we have had Sophia Flora Heilbronn, an infant phenomenon who plays remarkably well on the piano-forte, and is said to be fourteen years old. I have no doubt that she is and has been that old for three or four years. The Queen's Violincellist, decidedly the greatest artist on that instrument I have heard, succeeded Miss Heilbronn at the exhibition concerts and has been enthusiastically received. Miss Emily Soldens, a young woman with a sweet, strong voice and a superb figure has been, with a London company, playing Offenbachs Genevieve de Brabant at the Gaiety Theatre. The "great American actor" Boniface, is at the Queen's Royal; he is a very fair comedian and I think was leading gentleman of the company that traveled with that little man who had a wife named Dutton. This week the veteran English comedian, Buckstone, with his company from the Haymarket, London, begins a three weeks engagement at the Theatre Royal.

SENTIMENT AS TO JUDGE KEOGH.

I suppose you hear all about the Keogh matter by telegraph, as it has become a national matter now. Keogh came back and started on circuit with a large guard of police and soldiers, which he dismissed when he got to the north. The grand juries of Fermanagh, Tyrone, Monaghan and other counties have presented him with laudatory addresses, to which he has replied in words to the effect that he was sure he was right, and would consequently go ahead and fight it out on that line if it took all summer. In the meantime, Cardinal Cullen called a meeting, which passed very uncomplimentary resolutions about His Honor. He has been a score of times burned in effigy, and the other day a priest, who mistook Captain Keogh, whom he saw in his church, for his brother, the Justice, denounced him from the altar, whereupon the Captain got up and left, followed by a crowd, which became so menacing that he had to seek the protection of the constabulary. This week, I am told, a terrible attack is to be made upon the Justice in the House of Commons, and Dr. Ball, M. P. for Trinity College, is going to reply, and, as the Doctor, is one of the ablest speakers in Ireland, great interest is felt in the matter.

CRIMINAL MATTERS.

In Omah there is an inspector of policemen on trial for the murder of a bank clerk and theft of a large sum of money, and there seems to be little doubt of his guilt. As the man—his name is Montgomery—has been for some time at the head of the constabulary in that part of Ireland, the public interest in the case has been very great, and all the leading Irish papers have had reporters at Omagh.

STRIKES AND WAGES.

The latest news concerning strikes is from Winchester, England, where the grave-diggers all "went out" for an increase of four shillings a week wages. The London omnibus drivers are also about to strike. Although they only work about fifteen hours a day, they think it too much. Being on industrial topics, I may as well quote a paragraph which is going the rounds here. I take it from the London Daily News:

"Wages in America.—Some English iron workers, who immigrated to this country some time since, and have been employed at Pittsburgh, are going home to Staffordshire. They find that they cannot live as well here as there, despite the higher money wages. The wife of one of them said, "It was a bad day for us that we believed all about high wages here and come out to America;" and her husband added, "We're going home wiser than we left home." To this testimony as to the real condition of American working men, we may add that Mr. Archbald, British Consul-General at New York. He says that he is beset and overrun with British subjects, who have come to this country to make money and find themselves unable to do as well as they did at home. There is no land where the working man ought, in the nature of things, be better off than here, but the incubus of protection has crushed him down into poverty.—Chicago Tribune.

THE FOURTH IN DUBLIN.

I neglected to state how pleasantly I spent the glorious Fourth. I was invited to Druid Lodge, the beautiful villa of Mr. Daly, an old Pittsburgh and New York merchant. It is at Killipy, about eight miles from Dublin, and commands exquisite views of the Wicklow Mountains and Dublin Bay. When I got there I found the American flag floating from the tower, and a hearty Irish welcome down below. Mr. James Phelan, with his wife and family from Pittsburgh, were there, and Mr. Kerr, one of Pittsburgh's eminent architects, was expected, but failed to reach there in time. There were also the host and hostess and their family, and a number of neighbors. That the dinner was good, and the champaigne and Ireland's national drink plenty, it is unnecessary to state. In the evening the tower was illuminated with the figures "1776," in colors; two fire balloons were very successfully sent up, and a very fine display of fire-works would have wound up the evening if it had not been followed by a supper. As far as I could learn, this was the only observance of the Fourth in Dublin; and, excepting the one on the Consulate, Mr. Daly's was the only American flag flying here. The docks were crowded with vessels, but there was not an American ship among them. W. K.

SENTENCED TO MARRIAGE.

How to Cheat the Lawyers and Preserve an Estate.

A case recently tried before the Clonmel (Irish) Assizes was brought to a singular and novel termination by the presiding Judge. The parties in the case were a young man and a young woman, both of whom claimed possession of a rural property, one by virtue of an ancient lease, and the other under a will. They were in court for the purpose of giving their testimony, when a bright idea occurred to the Judge, who interrupted the case to say:

"It just strikes me that there is a pleasant and easy way to terminate this law suit. The plaintiff appears to be a respectable young man, and this is a very nice young woman. [Laughter.] They can both get married and live happy on this farm. If they go on with law proceedings it will be all frittered away between the lawyers, who, I am sure, are not ungallant enough to wish the marriage may not come off."

The young lady, on being interrogatad, blushed, and said she was quite willing to marry the plaintiff. The latter, on being asked if he would wed the young woman, gallantly responded, "Most undoubtedly." The Judge remarked that the suggestion occurred to him by instinct on seeing the young couple. A verdict was subsequently entered for plaintiff on condition of his promise to marry defendant within two months, a stay of execution being put on the verdict till the marriage ceremony is completed. The counsel gave the young lady such an unmerciful "chaffing" on her consent, which many in court thought should have been first obtained from plaintiff, that she left the court in tears.

FAST TROTTING.

Performances of Goldsmith Maid During the Present Year.

[From the Turf, Field and Farm.]

Below will be found the performances of Goldsmith Maid during the present year. They are very wonderful, and have won for her the title of Queen of the Trotting Turf, a title which she will continue to wear until it is fairly wrested from her by some lucky competitor, who may be fortunate enough to score better time than her lowest figures show:

June 7.—At Prospect Park, L. I., against Lucy. Time—2:22¾, 2:22¼, 2:22¾.

June 12.—Suffolk Park, Philadelphia, against time. Time—2:18¾.

June 19.—Mystic Park, Medford, Mass., against Lucy. Time—2:21, 2:16¾, 2:19¾.

June 27.—Prospect Park, R. I., against Lucy and Henry. Time—2:17¼, 2:19, 2:17¾.

July 9.—Fleetwood Park, N. Y., against Lucy, Amer can Girl and Henry. Won by American Girl in three straight heats, in 2:21, 2:[illegible], 2:24.

July 20.—Cleveland, Ohio, against Lucy and American Girl. Time—2:19, 2:18, 2:19.

July 29.—Cincinnati, Ohio, against Lucy. Time—2:19, 2:17¼, 2:21.

It is the intention of the Municipal Reform Association of Philadelphia to organize committees in every division of the city, for the purpose of selecting committees of safety, consisting of ten reliable citizens, enforcing a full compliance with the laws by the registry canvassers and the election officers.

GENERAL NEWS.

MELONVILLE, Florida, has produced a specimen of the watery fruit weighing seventy-two pounds.

A ST. LOUIS grain elevator company has given an order for a belt which is to be the largest in the world. It is to be four feet in width, 286 feet long, and weighs 2,225 pounds.

AT the last session of Congress an amendment to the bankrupt act was adopted, exempting life insurance to the amount of five thousand dollars from available assets.

THE new Paris Opera House will cost eight million dollars. The sculpture and painting will cost two hundred and twenty thousand dollars, and the ornaments three hundred and sixty thousand dollars.

CHILE still needs civilization. Seven men recently received 1,500 lashes each in order to make them confess to a robbery. One died under the operation, one is lying at the point of death and the others are fearfully mangled.

VERY many Cuban families will be found at the watering places this season. Hotel-keepers, as a general rule, are very glad to have them in their houses, for they say: "Cubans don't eat much, and they spend a powerful lot of money."

A MAN in San Diego has gathered one thousand two hundred pounds of tomatoes from a single vine the past year. It was trained to the side of his house. The tomato plant in Southern California is perennial, lasting four or five years.

THE death warrants read to culprits on the gallows in New Jersey covers eleven pages, and the performance usually takes place in the hottest part of the day. As the sheriffs have to "spell out" all the hard words, the operation is tedious to the gentleman waiting to be hanged.

AN example of precautionary justice furnished by the English Courts is worthy of imitation here. A collier, employed at the Silkstone colliery, for having taken a naked lamp into the mine, was sentenced to two months in prison. He endangered the lives of four hundred workmen by his careless neglect.

VIRGINIA is moving in the matter of immigration. A State Convention was held at Norfolk last week, at which addresses were made and organized action initiated. Two-thirds of the land area of the State lies uncultivated. Supply it with imported labor, and it will blossom like the rose.

THE Japanese have determined to hold a big fair, in which they invite the presence of all the world. It will be opened next March, and the authorities entertain hopes that it will be largely attended by merchants and manufacturers from the United States and all the capitals and important cities in Europe.

THE exports from Philadelphia, for the month of July, of commodities, the growth, produce and manufacture of the United States, were of the value of $2,218,910. The chief articles of export was petroleum, 6,564,015 gallons, of the value of $1,498,634. The next largest items were included under the head of breadstuffs, (mainly Indian corn) of the value of $384,228.

THE historical lime or linden, under which Martin Luther preached at Ringthal in Saxony (because the neighboring town of Mittweida would not allow the reformer to appear in public, and the Ringthal church proved too small), was burnt to a mere stump on the 29th of July. The accident is attributed to the sordid practice of some peasants having used fire to expel and "hive" a swarm of bees "on the wing," which had taken refuge in the old branches.

REPLYING to an address presented to him a short time ago by some old Papal officials, the Pope said: "You see what takes place in these days. They say that there are certain guarantees that there is liberty for all to vote in the administrative elections. I see, however, that this liberty comes to nothing. A Minister publishes a circular which frightens everybody. There are tumults in the streets. The guarantees and the liberty do not exist. Let everybody, however, do his best; let everybody follow the advice of authoritative persons, and if we do not succeed, it will be a proof of the hypocrisy of the guarantees of liberty."

PERSONAL.

AN old man died in Philadelphia on Thursday with joy at meeting his son on his arrival in this country from Europe.

THE late Dean of Lincoln's will bequeaths property valued at 60,000 pounds, and is written on a half sheet of note paper.

NATHANIEL HAWTHORNE had a singular passion for the sea, and used to say often, "I should like to sail on and forever, and never touch the shore again."

THE mother of the Worrell sisters turned every diamond presented to her daughters into hard cash, and purchased property on Bay Ridge, L. I., which has quadrupled in value.

MRS. HARRIET BEECHER STOWE has aroused the displeasure of Algernon Charles Swinburne, and he calls her "blatant Bassanio of Boston, a rampant Moenad of Massachusetts."

NILSSON is passing her honeymoon in Paris. In addition to her performances in St. Petersburg, she is to sing in Sweden under the direction of Maurice Strakosch. In March next she will appear in Paris at the opera house in an opera by Ambrose Thomas, entitled "Priche."

PRESIDENT THIERS said, the other day, in the French Assembly, that, in his opinion, King William, of Prussia, was an abler man than Frederick the Great; that Bismarck was greater than Cardinal Richelieu, and Field Marshal Moltke the most eminent strategist that ever lived.

A CHINAMAN in Weatherville, California, whose life was insured for a large amount, was seriously hurt by falling from a wagon. There was some doubt of his ever getting better, and at length one of his friends wrote to the insurance company, "Charley half dead, likee half money."

THE great composers seem to have chosen unmusical wives, and it may have been a very sensible practice. Mme. Offenbach says she detests music. Mme. Verdi never goes to the opera. Mme. Gounod is a devout member of the Church, and thinks her husband did very wrong to compose anything for the stage.

A WOMAN, an infant and a bottle of milk caused a great commotion on an Indiana train the other day, when it was running at the rate of forty miles an hour. The bottle dropped out of the window, the mother pulled the bell-cord, stopped the train, and wanted the conductor to go back after the babe's last sustenance. He didn't go.

THE Boston Courier says: "A thrifty citizen effected insurance on the life of his wife to the amount of ten thousand dollars, the other day, took home a box of the little red Maryland plum, and enjoyed a whole evening in watching his wife eat them. His enterprise had its reward. Deducting two hundred and ninety-eight dollars for funeral expenses, he is now nine thousand seven hundred and two dollars richer than he was a week ago."

THE Philadelphia Press, referring to the rumors of Col. Thomas A. Scott's illness, says "At no period of his life has Colonel Scott been in more robust health than at present. The various gigantic enterprises with which he is associated receive his constant and undivided attention, and are pressed forward with extraordinary energy, and yet through all he preserves his rare spirits, his unfailing good humor, and his intense enjoyment of the society of his friends."

AN Irishman, ready-witted, who always had a ready word for everybody, let it hit whichever way it might, went into a grocery store one day to buy eggs. "How are eggs to-day?" he asked of the clerk, who was one of those over-smart fellows, by the way. "Eggs are eggs to-day, Paddy," replied the clerk, looking quite triumphant upon two or three young lady customers who happened to be in the store. "Faith, I'm glad to hear yeez says so," replied Paddy, "the last ones I got were chickens."

A GOOD anecdote of Alexander Dumas. There are thousands of good ones, but this is particularly characteristic of the great writer. One day his son, whose pocket-book was very light at that time, was strolling along the boulevard, when he met a literary chum, and after a few minutes' conversation it was proposed that they should go to the Maison d'Or and enjoy a first-class breakfast. "Well and good," said Dumas fils, "but I have only five francs; how much have you?" "Three." "Eight francs will never do for the royal meal we desire, so we had better abandon the idea." "Where is your father?" asked the friend. "Tiens! I forgot; he will lend me twenty francs." And off rushes Dumas fils to the author of the "Three Musketeers." Ten minutes after he returned, laughing heartily. "Well," said the chum, "did he give it to you?" "No," answered Dumas fils, "on the contrary he borrowed my five francs."

PETRIFIED PALM TREE.

A Remarkable Discovery Near Denver, Colorado.

A PETRIFIED PALM TREE has been discovered twenty miles north-east of Denver. It is twenty-two feet in diameter, and evidently grew where it lies. Last winter a hunter for curious specimens stumbled upon it and guessed its true character. Specimens were brought to Denver, and pronounced by the best authorities petrified palm wood. The first or butt section of the petrifaction is 39 feet long and the second 21 feet, the two sections measuring sixty feet. The Denver News, in a long article on the discovery, says:

"All this immense mass of wood has turned to stone, hard and flinty as porphyry. Some of it looks like agate, finely veined and delicately tinted; other with opaline lustre; some white as the driven snow, or with the polished chalcedony. Portions of the trunk must have been rotten, for its stony remains are honeycombed and the cavites filled with delicate crystals that sparkle in the sunlight like real diamonds. Breaking into the knots with heavy blows of a sledge-hammer reveals miniature caves and grottoes glittering with stalacites and stalagmites of real crystal.

"It is useless to speculate upon the time when that giant of the forest flourished, of the hundreds of thousands of years during which a torrid sun daily kissed its shining leaves; of its fall and long immersion in the silicious bath that changed its very fibre to flint. It is history in stone, telling of changes in the condition and climate of this part of the world that may well make one shiver if he stops here fifty or hundred thousand years longer. Meantime, it can supply material for the walls of a courthouse, window sills, and caps for all of Denver, or centre-table tops for the Western States."

THOMAS EWING, THOMAS HOWARD.

TRUSSES.

Every kind of Trusses for the cure of Rupture may be obtained at Dr. Keyser's establishment, No. 167 Liberty street. It is a matter of the greatest consequence that all who are ruptured should be properly fitted with a suitable truss, and one that will keep the ruptured parts in their place. Many persons do not know when they are ruptured, and frequently years are allowed to pass by before anything is done.

This is a great error, and one that is often paid for at the epxense of the person's life.

Rupture is too serious jury to be treaed with lightness or neglect, especially when the means for its relief and cure are so easily obtained. Children and young persons are easily cured, with the improved appliances which are constantly being added to the great variety which Dr Keyser always has on hand.

Dr Keyser's office, 167 Liberty street, from 10 A. M. until 1 P. M., and from 3 to 6, and on Saturdays at night.

What We Need When Debilitated.

Appetite and digestion languish at this season. At the very time when the body most needs renovation and support, the stomach, its commissariat department, is apt to prove delinquent. Under such circumstances the necessity for a wholesome stimulant, tonic and corrective is self-evident, and consequently the demand for that peerless combination of the three required elements, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, is never more urgent than at midsummer.

It is true that a few medical bigots—fossils "left over" from the dark ages—recommend violent purgation and water gruel as a cure for indigestion and its accompanying ills, but they make few proselytes. The majority of the community are sane, and all sane people are aware that a pure and powerful vegetable tonic with alterative properties, like Hostetter's Bitters, is the only cure for dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, nervousness and the "consequential damages" they inflict.

The human intellect, unless hopelessly diseased or egregiously humbugged, declines to astonish the weakened human stomach with fierce cathartics that, rushing like an avalanche through the intestines, threaten to take the inner membrane with them. To use a significant catch-phrase the knock-down-and-drag-out methods of treatment are "played out."

It is clearly understood that a medicated stimulant is essential to the renovation of an exhausted frame, and that you cannot strengthen man or woman by dosing them with prostrating preparations. This is an era of common sense, and common sense approves of Hostetter's Bitters as the best article extant for invigorating, regulating and purifying the system and defending it against poison in the air we breathe, or the water we drink.

This company was organized for the purpose of importing and distributing Teas and Coffees for one small profit, and it was started with a capital amply sufficient (half a million dollars) to carry into effect, in a thorough and complete manner, our well matured plans. Added to this large capital, we have many years' experience in importing, buying, testing, and selling Teas to all sections of the country. And, as we have business connections with all the principal ports in China and Japan, thus receiving our goods direct from place of growth, our customers are saved from all intermediate profits.

All our Teas are selected with reference to our trade, and graded to established standards, so that all orders can be duplicated as often as desired, with the certainty that the same flavors and qualities will be sent, and at the lowest prices at which the goods can be imported and sold.

We conduct our business upon the true commercial principles of ONE PRICE—ONE SMALL PROFIT—and buy and sell for CASH ONLY.

We think our Thea-Nectar is the best Tea in the market for general use, and for the quality it certainly is the cheapest. Thea-Nectar is the pure black Tea, with the Green Tea flavor. Wherever it has been introduced it gives the fullest satisfaction.

Our business title we have copyrighted as a Trade Mark, under the laws of the United States, and cannot allow any one to use it or infringe upon it.

DAILY GAZETTE.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, August 6, 1872.

The moneyed men of the city seemed to have caught inspiration from the pleasant wheather of to-day, and were as good humored and courteous as those having to borrow money could desire. The banks, although having heavy daily drains made upon them, manage to keep up their lines of deposit, and in numerous instances an agreeable increase is perceptible. The wealth of the city being steadily enlarged, enables the moneyed institutions to extend their discount, and in this do their share in increasing the trade and commerce of the city. To the beholder there is nothing in the present aspect but encouragement. The great elements of success are here possessed in abundance, coal, water and oil, in unlimited quantities, with a healthy climate, and a good, rich recompensing soil, natural resources unsurpassed by that of any other portion of the globe. Still, some people wonder at the increase and expansion of the place. They think it a dull, cold, dismal and uninviting town, and that it has grown to its full limit. This is, however, a mistake. Although Pittsburgh has a rough, unseemly exterior, it is nevertheless a good, warm place within; and although at first uninviting to the stranger, on intimacy it proves to be all that the most exacting could look for. Here is to be the seat of empire so far as manufacturing is concerned. No other city can cope with it on this score. Sooner or later this result will and must be attained, and the time will be hastened or delayed by the action of the moneyed institutions and capitalists. If a liberal and consistent course is pursued on their part, the time will come soon; if a close, narrow-minded and contracted policy is carried out, it will be delayed. To them much has been given, and of them much is required. The man of energy, inventive talent, comprehension and indomitable will seldom has riches added to all these things; therefore it behooves those who possess wealth to lend a helping hand and make use not only of the gifts that they have received, but also of the diversity of gifts received collectively by the whole community. In this way, if they generously pursue it, it will be but a few years until they can point with pride to Pittsburgh, not only for its wealth and numbers, but also for the many intrinsic excellences which such a course on their part must certainly cause her to possess.

Local securities were quiet to-day. But little inquiry was made for stocks or bonds. In real estate business is very active.

NEW YORK, August 6, 1872.

Wall street is still quiet, though business is rather better than yesterday in speculative stocks and gold. Money closed easy at 3@4 per cent on call, though the morning transactions were at 4@5. Time loans in more demand at 7 per cent. and upwards. Sterling nominally at 109@109½. Gold steady; opened at 115⅝, declined to 115½, rallied to 115¾, and closed at 115⅝@115¾. Parties who have been working for higher prices are suspected of having sold largely. Borrowing rates 1-64 to 1-32, and 6@7 per cent. per annum. Time loans in good request at ⅜ for fifteen days, ⅜ for thirty days, 1⅛ for sixty days and 2¼ till the first of January. Clearances $98,000,000. Treasury disbursements $336,000. Governments dull all day but closed firm. State bonds almost nominal. Stocks alternately weak and steady, but prices in the main are lower than yesterday. The principal dealings were in Erie, Pacific Mail, C. C. & I. C., and Western Union. The first named opened weak, in sympathy with the decline in London, but advanced 1½ per cent., with sales at 49½. St. Paul preferred advanced 1 per cent. In afternoon market off ¼@½ per cent. from opening rates, but closed steady. The earnings of the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Minnesota Railroad for July were $73,833 55-100, against $30,033 58-100 the same period last year.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, August 6, 1872.

ASHES—Soda ash is firm but quiet and unchanged; Pots steady at 10; Pearls, firm at 11 cents.

APPLES—In good supply but with a steady demand prices are mantained, $2 to $2,50 per bbl.

ALE—Is quoted as follows: X $9 per bbl; XX, $10; India, $11.

BAGGING—Penn Mills two bushel, 38 cts; two half bushel, 45; three bushel, 53; Allegheny two bushel, 36.

BEANS—$2,50@$3 per bushel.

BUTTER—Continues dull with a supply in excess of present requirements, but there is no change in prices; 16 to 18 for prime to choice; and 10 to 14 for common to medium.

BROOM CORN—Is quotable at 5 to 8 cts, according to quality.

CHEESE—Is reported firmer but prices are unchanged, 10 to 10½ for Dairy; 11 to 11½ for Factory, and 12½@13 for Goshen.

CARBON OIL—Is quoted at 19½@20 cts by the car load, and 2@3 cts additional for smaller lots.

COUNTRY BACON—The stock in this market is very much reduced—almost exhausted. Country Lard, 8 to 8½.

CONCENTRATED LYE—$5,50 per case.

EGGS—May be quoted at 14@15—some dealers refuse to sell below 15, claiming, as they do, that there is a shipping margin to New York.

FLOUR—Is firm and fairly active but there is little or no change to make in quotations; $7,50@$8,25 for fair to choice Spring wheat and $8,75 to $9,25 for red winter. The arrivals of Spring wheat continue large, and it is evident that the consumption is steadily increasing; heretofore the demand for this kind of flour has been confined mainly to bakers, but now in consequence of it being so much cheaper, it it is going into general use. Rye Flour, $5,50.

GRAIN—The market for Wheat presents but little that is new; there is still considerable inquiry, particularly from the country, and with continued light receipts, prices are well maintained. Sales of prime to choice new red at $1,75 to $1,80; prime old may be quoted at $1,85 to $1,90. The Chicago market has been offish during the past two days; the fine weather, we presume, has not been without its influence, and then it was rumored that arrangements have been made to remove to that point all the Wheat in Milwaukee, for the purpose of helping out the shorts. The Tribune, of Monday, says: "Against this is the fact that some of our Wheat holders here are arranging to lessen their stocks; and one gentlemen, reputed to be high in the cerner, will ship out some 400,000 bushels during the early part of the coming week." Oats continue dull and prices are barely maintained; we now quote at 40 to 42—sales of good white reported at 41. Corn is in limited supply, but unchanged; 58 to 59 on track, and 60 to 61 free in elevator. Rye, in the absence of sales, may be quoted nominally at 85 to 90. Nothing doing in Barley here.

GROCERIES—Trade continues quiet, and the market presents nothing really new or important. Coffee, if anything, is firmer; however, there is no change in prices, and the indications at present are that there will be no material change one way or the other for some days. Sugars steady and unchanged.

SUGARS—Granulated 13¼; Crushed 13¼; Powdered 13¼; "A" Coffee, 12; B, 11¾; Extra C. 11¾; Circle C, 11¼; Chespeake Ex C 11¼; Knights, Ex C, 10¾; C, Yellow, 9¾.

COFFEE—Fancy, 24½; prime, 23½; good, 22½; fair, 22; roasted, 26.

SYRUPS—Fancy drips, 70; white; choice syrups, 65; good, 55; fair, 50; common, 35@40; blackstrap, 25.

MOLASSES—Stock of New Orleans almost exhausted; choice may be quoted at 85; prime, 80.

RICE—Carolina, 9¼@9½; Rangoon, 7¾@8; Patna, 8 to 8¼.

HAY—New crop is selling from country wagons at $20 to $30 per ton, according to quality and condition. Old baled may be quoted at $30 to $33.

LARD OIL—No. 1 Extra is still quoted at 73 to 75 cts in jobbing lots. Some of our manufacturers are buying their oil west, for the reason that for the present they can buy cheaper than they can make it.

POTATOES—Scarce and in fair demand, but unchanged; $2,50 to $3 per bbl.

PROVISIONS—Plain Shoulders, 7½c; Sugar cured Shoulders, 11c; Breakfast Bacon, 12½c. Rib Sides, 9; Clear Rib Sides, 9½; Clear Sides, 10c; Sugar Cured Hams, 16½c; Dried Beef, 20c. Lard, in tierces, 10c; half bbls, 10½c; pails, 11½c. Mess Pork, $15,50. Ham Sausage, 10c.

TALLOW—Unchanged at 8 to 8½.

Dry Goods.

NEW YORK, August 6.—All the leading printers, with the exception of about four, have followed the example set them by the Pacific Company, and reduced prices of fall work to 11½c. There are a large number of Western buyers in town, who seem to confine purchases to newly-offered styles of dress goods, shawls and fancy knit goods. For woolens and cassimeres there is to-day but little demand, and brown bleached goods are not taken with any confidence.

New York.

NEW YORK, August 6.—Cotton in good export demand and advanced; middling upland 21⅝c. Flour firmer but scarcely so active, with a moderate export demand; superfine western and State $5,75@6,15; good to choice $7,75@8,65; white wheat western extra $7,75@9,00; extra Ohio $6,85@8,75. Rye Flour and Corn Meal unchanged. Whisky a shade firmer at 93@93½c. Wheat higher; winter red western $1,73; amber Michigan $1,80. Rye quiet and firm; western in store 74c. Barley and Malt unchanged. Corn less active, with steamer western mixed at 62@63½c; sail do 63½@64c. Oats a shade firmer; western 44½@46½c; Ohio 47@50c. Eggs quiet; western 20@21c. Hay steady. Hops firm. Coffee firm; Rio 15½@18½c. Sugar firm; fair to good refining 8½@8¾c; Cuba 8¼@9c. Molasses in moderate request. Rice quiet at 8¾@9c. Petroleum: crude 12¼c; refined 22⅝@22½c. RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede steadily at this point with but 25 inches in the channel by new marks; however, there is no doubt but there is at least six inches more water than these marks indicate. The Juniata came through Glass House, on Monday, drawing about 33 inches while the marks here only called for some 27 or 28 inches. Weather clear and pleasant; some of the weather prophets are predicting a dry fall.

The Carrie Brooks is laid up at Wheeling.

No arrivals since our last excepting the slack water packets and the Julia No. 2 for Zanesville was the only departure.

The Juniata will lie up until there is more water. The Exchange is laid up at Cincinnati, and the Julia will lie up upon her arrival Zanesville, unless there should come a rise in the meantime, which is not probable.

—The Messenger arrived at St. Louis on Saturday last.

—Capt. Rees Pritchard, of Memphis, is visiting relatives at Terra Haute, Ind.

—A private telegram says the Emilie La Barge and Mary E Poe arrived at Shreveport Friday.

—Hiram Hill, the submarine diver, recovered all the iron portions of the Paducah and Elizabethtown railroad bridge. He had to work in eighteen feet of water.

—The St. Louis Republican says: "A private letter informs us that Pinckney Smith will have charge of the Katie on account of all whom it may concern. It is not yet known who will command her, but it lies between Capts. Richardson and White.

—Capt. Van Hook telegraphs to Commodore Kountz, from the Sherman House, Chicago, that he will be in St. Louis Monday. Captain Van Hook thought, when he left St. Louis, that a man who had worked steadily for two years could at least enjoy two months' rest, but that's where he made a mistake. After three weeks' rest he became dissatisfied and retuens to the cabin of his successful steamer, Henry C. Yaeger, and goes in command next trip.

—The St. Louis Democrat says: Captain Tom McCabe, on Thursday, sent to Cincinnati the machinery of the defunct steamer Kate Kearney. After contracting for a stern-wheeler for the machinery spoken of—a boat to carry 1,200 tons—he will revisit Ireland, the green home of his childhood's happy hours. The report that a relative in Ireland has left him a fortune is not credited here. It is more probable that a relative will be left a fortune by him.

—Workmen will soon be cutting the hull of the Great Republic in two, one hundred and twenty feet back from the bow or nosing. A new bow will then be built from where the hull has been cut in two, and said bow will be one hundred and thirty-eight feet six inches long, and will be so broad as to lift the entire hull up out of the water and increase the carrying capacity fully five hundred tons. When finished the Great Republic will be three hundred and forty-six feet long.

—At the Cincinnati Red river meeting last Wednesday, Capt. John A Williamson offered to put in the trade the Jennie Howell and Shannon and two other boats if he was guaranteed a profit of $2,000 a month to hold good as long as desired, and be terminated by a notice of 30 days. Capt. Haliday, of the Jennie Howell, said his boat would carry 600 tons or 2,400 bales of cotton, and draw only 21 inches light. He further stated that he had made from there to Shreveport with the Golden Era, four years ago, and cleared $1,000, and had nothing back. No action was taken, and the meeting adjourned till Monday, when, it is thought, Capt. W. G. McCoy would make a new proposition.

—The Cincinnati Commercial of Monday says: Capt. Lew. George, a heavy coal shipper from mines on the Kanawha, came up from Louisville yesterday. Captain G says he never saw as much coal afloat at Cincinnati and Louisville as there is now. Added to the 8,000,000, bushels from Pittsburgh, about 5,000,000 were shipped from Pomeroy, Raymond city and out of the Kanawha on the late rise. He thinks there is not much danger of a coal famine this winter. Coal must continue comparatively high for steamers on the lower rivers, however, unless there is another good rise soon, as only about 3,000,000 bushels got through the canal for the South on the late swell.

—The Cincinnati Chronicle, of Monday, referring to the death of Capt. John Bugher says: Capt. Bugher was born in Cookstown, Washington county, Pennsylvania, about the year 1819. He came to Cincinnati in 1845, and accepted a position as second clerk on the steamer Jewess, of which his brother James was captain. He remained on this steamer until the organization of the Cincinnati and Memphis Packet Company, in which he took a moneyed interest. He rose to the rank of captain, and commanded some of the best steamers in the line. In 1862 or 1863 he abandoned the river and retired to private life, having amassed a fortune which is estimated at a quarter of a million dollars. The deceased was a bachelor, and was beloved and respected by all.

—The St. Louis Democrat of Monday says: White collars will be put around the chimneys, of the steamers controlled by W. F. Davidson, thus realizing what was considered a vain prediction years ago, that he would run the white collars from St. Paul to New Orleans. The White Collar Line to St. Paul will be inaugurated to-day by the S. S. Merrill, and Captain Wm F. Davidson assumes the command himself. He is cheerful and confident; looks for a severe and protracted fight, but will feel quite at home while the elements of strife are surging round him. Captain J. S. McCune is no less confident of success, and his is a master mind in the art of steamboat war. His association with the Northern Line forms a formidable alliance. The forces are being marshaled; to-day the battle of the giants begins, and if it turns out that each side is not prepared to cast out upon the waters one hundred or two hundred thousand dollars, this report will admit that he is mistaken—which he sometimes is.

DR. A. SLEE, No. 264 PENN STREET.—Longer in the practice of Special and Chronic Diseases than any physician in the city so advertising. All forms of venereal diseases cured in the most thorough and satisfactory manner. Spermatorrhœa or nervous debility, producing blotches, debility, dizziness, nervousness, dimness of sight, noises in the head, indigestion, despondency, confusion of ideas, loss of memory, and which unfit the victim for business or marriage, and ultimately causing consumption and insanity, are permanently cured.

Long standing constitutional diseases skillfully treated, and the effects of mercury completely eradicated.

The Doctor gives particular attention to female complaints, Sterility, Amenorrhœa, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhœa, and all irregularities giving annoyance and trouble. A medical pamphlet is published in plain language on venereal diseases sent by mail for two stamps. Correspondence strictly confidential. Hours—9 A. M. to 8 P. M., Sundays excepted. Pittsburgh Medical Institute, 276 Penn street.
ja10:d&W

PRIVATE DISEASES.—OFFICE 194 PENN STREET, next door to the St. Clair Hotel. For the cure of all diseases of a private nature in from two to four days, by an entirely new and safe treatment. Also seminal weakness, impotency, and all other diseases of the genital organs, and their prevention. A cure warranted, or money refunded. Has Diploma in the office, and is a regular physician of 20 years standing in this city, and has cured over 10,000 cases.

For circulars, etc, address DOCTOR W., 194 Penn street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Office hours from 8 to 12 M., from 1 to 3, and 6 to 8 P. M. Sundays excepted.

Fire Last Night.

The alarm of fire last night was occasioned by the burning of three houses at Etna, near Sharpsburg, but owing to the lateness of the hour and the distance we were unable to learn further particulars.

Pocket Picked.

A couple of youthful rascals, Thomas Wright and Daniel Callahan, yesterday at the circus relieved Mr. H. Rist of his pocket-book, but were subsequently captured by officer Kreutzer and locked up.

Another Straw.

During a delay on the Pan Handle at Cork Run, on Monday, a vote was taken by two young men—one Grant, the other Greeley. The following was the result: Grant, 38; Greeley, 5; Victoria Woodhul, 3. There were eighteen ladies aboard, and every one of them pronounced in favor of Grant. Leader please copy.

A Wealthy Drunkard.

Yesterday afternoon as officer Berger was making his rounds, he discovered a man lying on Liberty street near Smithfield, dead drunk. The officer conveyed him to the lock-up, where a search revealed the fact that he had on his person twenty-two hundred dollars. On sobering off the man neglected even to thank the officers for saving his money, which might have been very easily stolen if he had been left to himself, but deposited five dollars for his appearance and departed.

A Youthful Thief.

Yesterday afternoon a girl about thirteen years of age entered the grocery store of George Moorhead, at the corner of Hemlock and Sandusky streets, Allegheny, and asked for some butter. While Mr. Moorhead was in the cellar getting the butter, the girl opened the till and took out thirty-five dollars. She seemed frightened at the amount, her evident intention having been to take but a few dollars. Presently she returned and inquired for a brush. As soon as the merchant's back was turned, she threw thirty dollars on the counter and ran out of the store. Mr. Moorhead made an information before Mayor Callow, charging the girl with larceny. She was arrested, and is now in the lockup awaiting a hearing.

Probable Infanticide.

Considerable excitement was occasioned in the Second ward, Allegheny, yesterday afternoon by the report that a young woman residing in that ward had given birth to an illegitimate child which she afterwards drowned in a vault. When the rumor reached the ears of Mayor Callow he dispatched an officer to investigate the matter. The officer found the woman who was living with a family named Kenney, residing on Benton alley. She is unmarried and about twenty-two years of age. She gave her name as Divina Dunlap. The officer searched the vault and found the body of a child, which gave evidence of having been prematurely born. The woman seemed to be suffering considerably, and was conveyed to the lockup, where Drs. Kirker and Smith attended her. She is held in the lockup, and will probably have a hearing today.

Messrs. Arbuthnot, Shannon & Co.

We direct the attention of our dry goods dealers to the advertisement of Messrs. Arbuthnot, Shannon & Co., in to-day's paper, giving a list of the Woolen Mills for which they are the selling agents.

This house disposes of the entire product of these Mills, and the well known quality and desirability of the Fullerton Plaid Flannels and Greenville Plaid Flannels, Blankets and Yarns, and Emdale Mills goods, make it an item to the trade to know where to find them; and we can assure them of good treatment from A., S. & Co., whether purchasers of these Flannels or other dry goods.

Buyers will also find at this house Bradley's, Mercer, Pittsburgh and the best makes of Eastern Flannels at mill prices, making the assortment unsurpassed in any market. Messrs. Arbuthnot, Shannon & Co. offer a lot of all wool Barred Flannels at last year's prices. Choice goods and a great bargain.

AN EXCITING CHASE.

A Police Officer in the Pursuit of a Criminal is Overcome by the Heat—His Recovery Doubtful.

Yesterday afternoon a very exciting chase occurred in Allegheny, which may prove fatal to one of the participants.

An information was made before Mayor Callow, charging John Buckley with disorderly conduct. A warrant was issued, and Officer McCurry started to make the arrest. About three o'clock in the afternoon he reached Wood's Run, where he discovered Buckley. At the same time Buckley saw the officer, and guessing his errand he started towards the upper part of the city. The officer gave chase, and followed him to Lake street, a distance of two miles, but without succeeding in effecting his capture. At this point, however, officer Barr, who was ahead of Buckley arrested him. A moment or two later officer McCurry, who is a large, fleshy man, came up, apparently very much exhausted and over heated by the chase. He sat down upon some steps to rest while officer Barr conveyed his prisoner to the lockup. A few moments afterwards, Officer Jones, who happened that way, discovered McCurry lying upon the steps in an insensible condition. He was conveyed to his residence and Drs. Grouard Cumings and O'Hara summoned to attend him. At last accounts he was still insensible and in a very critical condition. The physicians think that his recovery is very doubtful, as he is suffering from congestion of the brain.

COUNTY POLITICS.

Republican Executive Committee—Meeting Yesterday Afternoon—The Soldiers' and Sailors' Convention—Additions to Committees—Progress of the Work.

A regular meeting of the Allegheny County Republican Executive Committee, was held yesterday afternoon at headquarters. President Gross in the chair. The meeting was the largest yet held, and the utmost enthusiasm prevailed.

Reports were called from the various subcommittees, and encouraging responses made.

Considerable discussion took place on the arrangements being made for the reception of the Soldiers and Sailors, and the preparations in fact for the convention of the 17th of September. General Fearson, chairman of the Resident Committee, reported the progress made. The question as to the time of the torchlight procession and the mass convention, was left for further consideration.

Mr. Blakely, from the Naturalization Committee, offered a resolution covering the addition of the following as members of the committee, which was adopted. Messrs. W. F. McKelvy, James A. Ross, John Patterson, H. J. Thomas, Roland D. Jones, Wm. J. Diehl and Fred. Wilhelm.

A resolution was adopted covering the arrangements of a number of meetings throughout the country.

On motion of Dr. Gilmore, it was decided to to meet every Tuesday, hereafter, throughout the campaign, at two o'clock, P. M.

A large amount of business not proper for publication was transacted. Adjourned.

BIRMINGHAM COUNCIL.

Regular Monthly Meeting—Saturday Night Market Abolished—Trouble with the Railroad Company.

The Town Council of Birmingham held a regular meeting last evening. The following members were present: Messrs. Zieful, Schwarm, Duncan, Doyle, Conway, Kerr, Ward, Miller and Burgess Salisbury in the chair.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Mr. Kerr, of the Finance Committee, reported a balance of $1,567.60 remaining in the treasury August 6, 1872. Received and filed.

The report of the Street Commissioner showed that he had expended for street purposes during the last month $546.24.

Mr. Zeifel, of the Street Committee, reported that Street Commissioner had paved Eleventh street and Neville alley. He reported that Manor street crossings of the railroad are not passable. The Street Committee also recommended the paving of Spruce alley.

Mr. Wood stated that East Birmingham is going to enter suit against the railroad company, and it would perhaps be better to await the decision of the courts in the matter.

The Burgess stated that a committee should be appointed to see the Solicitor about the matter of proceeding legally against the company.

Mr. Kerr moved that the matter be referred to the Street Committee to confer with the Borough Solicitor.

Mr. Ziefel said it was the opinion of the Solicitor that the railroad company could occupy the whole street and the borough could obtain no redress; but if private property was injured the railroad company would be obliged to pay for the property injured.

The collections made by the borough officers for the last month were as follows:

Wharfmaster	$214 50
Borough Tax Collector	12 00
Weighmaster	29 60
Market Master	511 17

Mr. Doyle, of the Market Committee, made a report recommending the discontinuance of the Saturday evening markets, as it only encouraged rowdyism, and the receipts didn't pay the gas bills. It was recommended that the Saturday market be held in the morning. A resolution to that effect was carried.

The Burgess and Finance Committee were authorized to negotiate a loan for the payment of ten thousand dollars of paving bonds that are now due.

The Street Committee were ordered to have Spruce alley paved.

Sundry bills to the amount of $981.42 were then read and ordered to be paid.

One from the Gas company for the quarter ending August 1st amounting to $393.99 was laid over to the next meeting.

A bill from Messrs. Reineske, Wilson & Co., for gas and water fixtures in the Market house was also ordered to be paid. On motion warrants were ordered for the borough officer's salaries, also $500 were allowed the Street commissioners for street expenses for the ensuing month. The insurance on the Market house amounting to $300 was ordered to be paid.

A petition for the paving of Chestnut alley between Seventh and Eighth streets, was read and referred to the Street Committee, to report at the next meeting.

Mr. Zeiful moved that the Building Committee be requested to put up as many lamps in the Diamond square as are necessary to light it properly.

On motion adjourned.

ALLEGHENY SCHOOLS.

Board of Control—Meeting Last Night—Notes of School Work—The Finances of the Year—A Secretary's Comments—Plans for Consolidation—General Minor Matters of Interest.

Last evening the Board of School Controllers of Allegheny held their regular monthly meeting in the Common Council Chamber, City Building. Present, a full Board.

In the absence of President King, Judge John E. Parke, of the Fifth ward, was called upon to preside.

Secretary Benney read the minutes of the preceding meeting, which were approved.

REPORTS FROM LOCAL BOARDS.

Reports from the ward Boards, giving the elections of teachers for the year, were received, and the elections approved. [The elections have been heretofore published in the GAZETTE.]

The Third ward Board reported the election of two principals—one for each school building.

Mr. Sprague objected to allowing the ward two principals. The Second ward had more scholars, and three houses, and yet had but one principal.

Mr. Smith contended that it was legal to confirm the two principals for the Third ward, as each ward having two buildings capable of accommodating a principal and six teachers in each building was entitled to a principal for each. The Second ward had three buildings, but only one of them would accommodate six teachers. The Fourth ward had two large houses, and two principals.

The election was confirmed.

The Fifth ward Board reported the resignation of Miss Andrews who had gone to Pittsburgh for a higher salary.

SPECIAL INSTRUCTION.

Mr. Parke, [Mr. Smith in the chair,] presented the annual report of the Committee on Special Instruction, in reference to the progress made in the special branches of penmanship, music, chemistry, and calisthenics.

The report was very full in detail, and in its reviews of the year exhibited encouraging advancement in each branch. The paper was accepted and ordered to be published with the other annual reports.

A FINANCIAL REVIEW.

Secretary Benney then waked up the Board anew, with the following spicy review of matters and things coming under his observation during the past year:

To the Board of Controllers:

GENTLEMEN: In obedience to a rule of the Board, I herewith submit statements of the receipts and expenditures of the Board for the school year ending June 1st, 1872. Also statements of the accounts of the school depository—the receiver of taxes, and the collectors of delinquent taxes, together with the assets and liabilities of the Board at the above date.

It will be seen on an examination of the statement that the receipts from all sources have been $82,295 73.

The expenditures have been as follows:

Salaries paid teachers of day schools	$77,205 50
" " " evening "	1,744 53
" " " vocal music	2,000 00
" secretary	500 00
" Receiver	1,500 00
" Janitor and Messenger	145 81
Contingent expenses of the board	1,449 21
" " colored schools	905 31
Purchase and maintenance of the library	1,150 35
Making	$86,600 21
Balance due depository, June 1st, 1871	7,012 64
Total expenditures of the board	$93,612 85
In addition to this there was expended by the Ward Boards for grounds, buildings, repairs, Interest, fuel and Janitor's wages	214,687 47
Making the aggregate expenses for the year	$308,300 32

or an average cost of $52 per pupil in average attendance. But on the actual amount expended by this Board for tuition and contingent expenses, the cost per pupil in average attendance is only 14 68

The salaries of the male teachers employed in this school district average $115 67 per month, for ten months. The salaries of the female teachers average $47 67 per month.

The value of the school property of the district is estimated at	640,000 00
The assets of the Board consist of the unpaid taxes on the delinquent duplicates of 1871, amounting to $10,548 97. But after deducting a sufficient amount to cover commissions and exonerations, the balance will amount to	7,760 15
The indebtedness of the Board consists of the amount advanced by the Depository, which was	11,317 12
The assets deducted from this will	7,760 15
leave a balance against the Board of	3,556 97

THE LIQUOR FINES.

Your attention, gentlemen, is called to the fact that while the school law requires the Mayor and Magistrates to pay the liquor fines into the Treasury of the proper school boards; and although this Board incurred the expense of obtaining the opinion of a legal gentleman on the subject, which clearly shows it to be the duty of the Mayor to pay the liquor fines into the treasury of this Board, nothing has ever been paid by the present incumbent. Mayor Drum paid during the year 1869 $375. At this rate there must be nearly one thousand dollars due this Board, and it is suggested that some measures be taken to secure the amount already due, and to have what may accrue hereafter directed into its legitimate channel.

The position that I have held under this Board for the last two years has afforded abundant opportunity for hearing the opinions of many of the tax-payers very freely expressed. Some in and by no means commendable. But that which surprised me most was that the loudest complaints came from that portion of the community who pay the smallest amount of taxes, and furnish by far the largest number of children to be educated, while those who are the largest contributors to the school fund, and derive the fewest direct benefits arising from the system, not only pay their taxes cheerfully, but frequently accompany their money with words of encouragement. Thus evincing a knowledge of the fact that the taxes they are now paying will, by a wise management, increase the efficiency, thoroughness, and comprehensiveness of the system to such an extent, that the community will not only be better, more intelligent and happier, but in the end richer through its agency.

In a country like ours, where the avenues to wisdom, wealth and honor are open alike to all, and where every man of ordinary intelligence may, by industry and perseverance, reach the highest point compatible with his natural endowments, it must be conceded that the common school system holds a most important place in the development of that intelligence which gives success to intellectual labor, manual skill, and commercial enterprise.

POLITICAL ECONOMY ON THE "HALF-SHELL."

The science of government can only be comprehended and understood among the people by the widest diffusion of intelligence. In this country every man is a sovereign, and bears his part in enacting the laws and in giving shape to the government in all its various departments; and as good government is essential to the protection of property and to the citizen in the peaceful pursuits of life, no duty of the citizen carries with it greater responsibility than that of the right of suffrage. It becomes an imperative duty to see, as far as he can, that those who are elevated to places of power and great responsibility should be wise and pure and good; and as the stream can never rise above its source we can readily see the source of power should be imbued with wisdom, purity and goodness. And as education is the primary and principal means to be employed in the development of the intellectual and moral powers of the men who are to control the future of this government, the dignity and responsibility of our position as Directors of the system by which this great work is to be accomplished must be apparent to all.

A NUT FOR DIRECTORS TO CRACK.

One of the most important duties of the Director, perhaps, is that which involves the selection of teachers for the several departments of our schools. Our aim should be to employ none but the very best and most successful teachers, in order that more life, enterprise and efficiency may be infused into the schools, so that the fondest hopes of parents for the intellectual culture of their children may be realized. But the services of the best educators cannot be retained without adequate compensation. It is not unfrequently the case that the most successful educators are compelled by the low salaries of the schools to abandon a profession and work that they love, to seek employment in other departments that promise more liberal rewards. Skilled labor finds constant employment and the highest wages; in law, the man who, by close application, has attained the most elevated point in his profession, fixes his own compensation; so also of the physician. If men in these professions, by patient industry, can accumulate enough in the vigor of life to afford them comfortable shelter in old age, why should the teacher who devotes his or her life to one of the noblest professions—that which instructs the immortal and shapes the destiny of the nation, be compelled to toil on year after year at a compensation but little above that awarded to unskilled labor, while the distant future promises no provision for sickness, misfortune or old age? This question of an

is one that forces itself, year after year on the attention of this Board, by the fact, that within every few months our most successful teachers are offered inducements in the shape of increased salaries which deprives us of their services. And if we wish these unpleasant occurrences to cease it will have to be done by such an increase in the salaries as will secure their continuance in our schools. It is often urged that there is no scarcity of teachers—that the supply is greater than the demand, and hence there is no necessity for an increase in salaries. This is true so far as numbers are concerned—but not as regards the qualities required for success. Many of those who seek employment as teachers do not give any evidence of their love for the work. If they can put in the time and get their salary they seem to be satisfied. But the teachers whose heads and hearts are both in the work are never satisfied unless they can furnish fruit of their labor in abundance, and this is the class of teachers that are constantly needed to elevate the standard of culture in our schools to the highest point of which our system is susceptible.

The report was received and ordered to be published in the annual reports.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

The question of fixing the text book in Algebra was called up and after some discussion Mr. Smith moved that Brooks' algebra be adopted with the proviso that the publisher provide each of the two hundred scholars now studying algebra with the new books, in exchange for the ones now in use. Carried.

It was further decided to allow the local boards to choose such books for drawing and music as they might deem best for text books.

An amendment to the rules was adopted providing that the teachers should comply with the strict letter of the law by teaching twenty days, and attending two institute meetings during each month. Carried.

Mr. Hemphill offered a resolution fixing the salary of the Principal of the Colored Schools for the next year at $1,200. Laid over under the rules.

Mr. Smith called up his resolution, presented at a last meeting, providing for the purchase by the Board of all books used in the schools. The gentleman, in support of his resolution, contended that by this method the "fearful fight" for the patronage among book agents and directors would be avoided; and also that the cost in the end would not be much greater upon each family than under the present system.

Mr. Hamilton saw in the movement the opening of a "Corporation Book and Distributing Depot."

Mr. Marthens thought they were not ready to go into such an expenditure.

The resolution was voted down.

TEACHERS SALARIES AGAIN.

Mr. Smith called up the resolution in reference to grading the teachers salary according to experience.

Mr. Claney offered a substitute for the appointment of a Conference Committee of five, to ask for a similar committee from the Pittsburgh Board to endeavor to fix upon a regular basis of salaries. He thought this would prevent their teachers from being drawn off to Pittsburgh for a larger salary, as each city would have the same schedule.

Mr. Donaldson thought the resolution an excellent consolidation scheme—all consolidationists should vote for it.

Mr. Claney couldn't see how it favored consolidation. It was merely a business arrangement between the two cities.

The substitute was voted down, and the original resolution shared the same fate by a vote of 17 yeas to 14 nays.

Several small bills were presented and warrants ordered.

Adjourned at ten o'clock.

IN MEMORIAM.

Resolutions of Respect to the Memory of the Late George Black, Esq.

The impression created in business circles by the demise of the late George Black, Esq., and the esteem with which he was regarded among business associates was fittingly expressed yesterday by the action of several of the Boards of Directors of corporations with which he was interested, which are herewith appended:

PITTSBURGH INSURANCE COMPANY.

WHEREAS, Almighty God, in His wisdom, has removed from us our President, George W. Black, a kind friend and efficient officer, thereby depriving us of one in whose counsels we have been accustomed to repose the most implicit confidence; therefore,

Resolved, That while we bow in submission to the Divine will of Him "who doeth all things well," we cannot but be painfully affected with a sense of our own loss in the removal of our very worthy President, who always took a deep interest in the welfare of our company—"The Pittsburgh Insurance Company"—and as an officer had no superior.

Resolved, That we bear affectionate testimony to the wisdom, upright dealing and social qualities of our departed President, and that we shall ever cherish pleasant and grateful remembrances of our esteemed companion and friend.

Resolved, That we extend our heartfelt sympathy to the bosom companion, relatives, and friends of deceased in this, the time of their affliction, and express the hope that the richest blessing of a covenant-keeping God may descend and rest upon them, and they may be able not only to say but to feel, "Father, Thy will be done."

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be presented to the family of the deceased, entered in full on the minute book of the company and published in the daily papers of the city.

Resolved, That the directors of the company attend the funeral of our esteemed friend in a body.

JOHN SCOTT, Chairman.

D. C. HULTZ, Secretary.

PEOPLE'S NATIONAL BANK.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the People's National Bank held this day, the following action was unanimously taken:

WHEREAS, It has pleased God in His wisdom to remove by death George Black, Esq., Vice President of this bank, and a member of its Board of Directors ever since its organization,

Be it resolved, That the Board has heard of his death with the deepest sorrow, and in placing a record of it on their minutes, would take occasion, as fellow-directors and personal friends of the deceased, to express their deep sense of the loss this bank, as well as his family and the community, has sustained, and their high appreciation of his character as an exceptionally able, efficient, intelligent and thorough man of business, who, by his enterprise, untiring industry and systematic and energetic prosecution of his legitimate business pursuits, was enabled to rise from a comparatively humble beginning, to occupy an enviable position in the front ranks of successful business men, and while giving liberally to charitable objects and institutions, not only to accumulate an ample estate, but to establish for himself at the same time a highly honorable and enduring reputation.

Resolved, That we tender to the aged mother, and his widow and family, our sincerest sympathies in this distressing visitation.

Resolved, That these proceedings be entered on the minutes of the Board, and a copy handed to the family of the deceased.

By order of the Board,

SAMUEL REA, President.

F. W. GORDON, Cashier.

POLICE PARAGRAPHS.

Brief Mention of Criminalities.

FIFTY-ONE common cases interviewed the Mayor at the hearing yesterday morning.

HEENAN has been committed to jail for five days by Alderman Mercer, of East Birmingham. It was Patrick—not John.

MRS. ARABELLA LEWIS made an information against Fritz Arnholz, charging him with indecent assault. Mayor Callow issued a warrant.

DRUNKENNESS and disorderly conduct stood opposite the name of Rosa Mullen, and she was yesterday sent to the workhouse for sixty days.

BEFORE Justice Heisel, of South Pittsburgh, Mrs. Allen charged Mrs. Cochey with having struck her over the head with a poker and otherwise abusing her. A warrant was issued for her arrest.

ADOLPH YOU made an information before Alderman McMasters against E. H. Fiero, charging him with the larceny by bailee, of $5.50. The defendant was arrested and gave bail for a hearing.

MARGARET GRACY had her husband, William arrested yesterday on charge of assault and battery and surety of the peace. Justice Barker, of South Pittsburgh, committed Gracy in default of bail.

EARNEST NIBACH, who is charged with having stabbed Christ Peters, was yesterday held for court by Mayor Callow. Nibach then entered a cross suit against Peters, charging him with assault and battery. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

JACOB TAYLOR, a colored man, is charged before Mayor Callow with having celebrated the first of August greatly to the detriment of a buggy which he had hired from W. T. F. Fairman. Thirty dollars are the estimated amount of damages.

ALDERMAN D. L. Smith issued a warrant for the arrest of Henry Schafer, who is charged with having surreptitiously obtained possession of a negotiable note which he afterwards destroyed. John H. Mulen, the owner of the note, made the information.

JOHN ECKER and John Abel yesterday made information before Alderman Smith, of Allegheny, charging John Miller and John Redman with felonious assault and battery. It is alleged that Miller cut Ecker upon the head with a knife. Warrants were issued for their arrest.

F. MANSFIELD, of the firm of Mansfield & Fitzsimmon, made an information against Ruse, an absconding apprentice. It is alleged that young Ruse was apprenticed to the above named firm, and after serving half his time absconded. Alderman McMasters issued a warrant for his arrest.

GERTRUDE BROWN yesterday made an information before Alderman McMasters against a Frenchman named E. Mensaner, whom she charged with malicious mischief. The parties reside at Homewood, and it is alleged by the deponent that Menlauer broke her windows, stoned her house and cut her window blinds. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

Before Alderman McMasters Margaret Delany charged Margaret Carr with assault and battery and forcible entry and detainer. The parties reside in Webster avenue, and it is alleged that the defendant forced open the door of the deponent's house with an axe and dragged her out of the house, after which she locked the door. The defendant was arrested and gave bail for court.

YESTERDAY morning Mrs. Louisa Harris made an information before Mayor Callow, charging her husband with refusing to contribute to her support. Soon after she left the office her husbands employer came into the office and made an information against Mrs. Harris, whom he charged with having abused her husband and creating a disorder in the neighborhood. Warrants were issued in both cases.

Card from George R. Cochran.

PITTSBURGH, PA., August 6th, 1872.

EDITORS GAZETTE: Please announce publicly to the trinity of the so-called Liberal party, (composed of the sore heads, dumb heads and copper heads) that I am a straight Republican out and out, and if my life is spared to the next elections, will vote the straight old Republican ticket from Grant and Wilson down to the ward constable without any stratching or omission. I mean what I say, and I do hope this will stop any further inquiries relative to my political character.—Yours, &c.,

GEORGE R. COCHRAN.

BREVITIES.

....Allegheny Councils meet to-morrow evening.

....The Fifteenth ward school house is being thoroughly renovated.

....Several of our citizens are returning home daily from the sea shore and other summer resorts.

....A man named Robinson had a finger taken off yesterday in the machinery of Armstrong's Cork works on Fourth avenue.

....The Ormsby Hose Company has disbanded because the borough Councils refused to supply them with a sufficient quantity of hose.

....A very interesting letter from Wilson King Esq., our special correspondent at Dublin, Ireland, will be found on to-day's second page.

....It is intimated that if the drivers on the Pleasant Valley road are successful in the strike, their brethren of the Ormsby line will follow their example.

....Yesterday afternoon Frantz Glatz, a resident of Woods Run, Allegheny, fell against the edge of an open door and broke his shoulder blade. Dr. Walters attended him.

....Steiner, the man who was beaten and robbed in Allegheny, last Friday night, was yesterday reported to be improving slightly, though hopes of his recovery seem very slight.

....A buggy in a funeral procession broke down at the corner of Smithfield street and Fifth avenue yesterday, and the occupants were thrown out. Fortunately none of them were seriously injured.

....A typographical error yesterday in our report of the meeting of the Health Committee of Allegheny Councils, made us say that bills were approved to the amount of $25,815 60. It should have been $258 15.

....The drivers of the Pleasant Valley cars still hold out in the strike, though the company yesterday succeeded in employing about a dozen drivers at the old rates. They expect soon to have all the cars running.

....A German, while at work at the foot of Greenwood street, Allegheny, yesterday afternoon, was overcome by the heat. He was removed to his residence in the Sixth ward where he received medical attention.

....The following county officers have made their returns to the County Controller of the net receipts of their offices for the month of July: Prothonotary Ross, $1,771.21; Register Gray, $423.29; Clerk of Court, Hilands, $368.28.

....The School directors of Chartiers township have elected the following teachers to serve for the ensuing year: Principal, Mr. J. J. Snodgrass; Grammar department, Miss D. Benson; Intermediate, Miss Johnston; Primary, Miss Sallie Barnes.

....According to Mark Twain's theory that a full lock-up indicates a prosperous city, ours must be improving. Yesterday morning fifty-one inmates of Capt Reed's Hotel responded to roll call—a large increase over the returns for the previous morning.

....In the United States District Court, yesterday morning, T. B. Hiddon, of the firm of C. T. Reynolds & Company, New York, filed a petition, asking that the Climax Mower and Reaper Company be declared bankrupt. The usual order was made.

....Yesterday morning Joseph K. Brown, that recusant witness in the Bender case, paid the fine of two hundred and fifty dollars and costs inflicted upon him by the court. His counsel, Messrs. Furguson and Marray, intend to take the case to the Supreme Court on a certiorari.

....The body of Eugene L. Simonton, the young Pittsburgher who was killed at Dennison, Ohio, the other day, by a Pan Handle Railroad train, was brought to this city yesterday, and the funeral will take place to-day from the residence of the father of the deceased on Grant street.

....The election of Directors for the Central Bank was held yesterday, with the following result: Thomas Fawcett, D. W. C. Carroll, James H. Hopkins, Julius Adler, James Brown, J. H. Walter, Madison Bailey, J. F. Dennison, George Bingham, Abram Hayes, Paul H. Hacke and James Lyon.

....Wm. Scott, of the Fisher Boat Club, and Peter Snyder, have arranged to row a single scull race on the Allegheny river on Monday, the 19th of August. The race will be for seventy-five dollars a side, over a two mile course, starting at the Suspension bridge, and rowing up one mile and return.

....At special meetings of the Boards of Directors of many of our banks and insurance companies, yesterday, resolutions were passed to the memory of the late George Black Esq. The funeral of the deceased will take place this afternoon at three o'clock, from the family residence, West Ohio street, Allegheny.

....The Cincinnati Chronicle of yesterday, says a man by the name of Pat. Wallace, in an attempt to steal a ride to Pittsburgh on the 11 o'clock train Saturday night, climbed on top of one of the passenger coaches while the train was at Fulton. In doing so he missed his footing and fell to the ground, breaking one of his ribs and otherwise injuring himself.

....A drunken man made a very narrow escape from being killed by a locomotive yesterday afternoon at the Union depot. He attempted to cross the track in front of an approaching train when his foot caught and he came very near falling. With considerable difficulty he managed to stagger out of the way; but had he been a few seconds later he must have been instantly killed.

....An alarm of fire was sounded from box 14, corner of Diamond alley and Wood street, at half past one o'clock yesterday afternoon. The alarm was occasioned by the burning of the floor in the kitchen of L. Bechtold's "Woodbine," which caught from the stove. The department was promptly on hand, but did not go into service, the flames being extinguished before much damage was done.

....The funeral of Mr. John S. Kelly who met with such a sad fate by being thrown from a buggy on Penn avenue, Saturday night, took place yesterday from the residence of his parents, and was one of the largest funeral pageants ever witnessed in this city. Pontifical high mass was celebrated in the Cathedral, where the main religious services were held. The streets in the vicinity were blockaded for almost an hour.

....The circus, which was moving from Allegheny to this side yesterday morning, created quite a commotion among the horses in the Diamond, Allegheny. Those teams attached to hay wagons became frightened, and started to run, but were stopped before any damage was done. A horse belonging to R. Knox & Son broke away from the man who was holding him, and dashed the buggy against a fire-plug, completely demolishing it, (the buggy, not the fire-plug.) The harness gave way and the horse continued his course, finally running into the bar-room of Fisher's tavern, where he was captured.

....At a congregational meeting held in the First Methodist Church, Fifth avenue, Monday evening, to choose a pastor, Rev. I. W. McKeever, who has had pastoral charge of the congregation for two years past, was placed in nomination, as were also Alexander Clark, editor of the Methodist Recorder, and Revs. Messrs. Cowl and James B. Lucas. Two ballots were taken, and on the second Mr. Clark was nominated, having received a majority of all the votes cast. A committee consisting of Messrs. Wm. Rinehart, W. J. Troth and Samuel Fleming were appointed to notify Mr. Clark officially. Mr. Clark at present is editor of the Recorder, and should he accept the pastorate of the church, he would be compelled to resign the editorship—a position which he has filled with signal ability and to the satisfaction of the Church in general.

....The Water Committee of Allegheny Councils held a meeting Monday evening, at which bills amounting to $7,737.76, the expenditures for the past month, were approved. Controller Brown submitted a statement showing the condition of the fund for water purposes. The total fund at the disposal of the committee including $30,000 of an appropriation and bonds sold, amounted to $117,404.08; total expenses up to the 1st inst., aggregated $59,870.22, leaving a balance of $57,533.86. This does not include $50,000 worth of bonds sold but not delivered, nor any of the city taxes. The contract for the construction and painting of a frame house for the large water tank on Troy Hill was awarded to M. F. Kimball, of Pittsburgh. The contract is $1,495. The committee also decided to recommend Councils to authorize the laying down of some two thousand feet of new ten inch mains on Spring Garden avenue. That portion of the city is at present poorly supplied with water, and as the population is rapidly increasing, this measure is deemed necessary.

Loveliness on the Increase.—A marked increase of female loveliness is the eye-delighting result of the immense popularity which HAGAN'S MAGNOLIA BALM has obtained among the ladies of America. Complexions radiant with snowy purity and tinged with the roseate hue of health are commonly met with whenever it is used. For the sallow and unwholesome appearance of the face and neck which, utterly counterbalances the effect of any personal attraction the owner may possess, it substitutes that clear, pearl-like complexion which is such a transcendent charm in woman, and renders the roughest skin as soft as a Genoa velvet. No one is more astonished than the person using it at the marvelous transformation which it effects in these particulars. TTHS-S

SUMMER RESORTS.

LAKE HOUSE,
Stoneboro, Mercer County, Pa.

This celebrated house, having been recently refurnished, will be open for the reception of guests Monday, June 10th, 1872. Persons wishing to engage rooms or other information may address to
SAMUEL ROSENBURG,
Stoneboro, Pa.

This favorite Summer Resort is delightfully situated a few rods from Sandy Lake, the most beautiful sheet of water in Pennsylvania, and is well stocked with fish and pleasure boats. Fishing tackle of all kind under the charge of an experienced sailing master. Having refitted the billiard room and Tenpin alley in first class style, also barber shop, bath room and livery stable connected with this favorite resort.

Seekers for health, as well as for recreation and fine Rural Scenery, will find in the Chalybeate Spring, on the grounds, all the virtues of tonic treatment found at the most celebrated watering places. By chemical analysis, one gallon of water was found to contain 10.80 grains of Mineral substances, consisting principally of Carbonate of Lime, held in solution by Carbonic Acid Gas, associated with small quantities of Carbonate of Protoxide of Iron, Sulphate of Magnesia, Chloride of Sodium, and traces of Silicia and organic matter.

The analysis was made by the Professor of Chemistry in the Laboratory of the Philadelphia University of Medicine and Surgery.

PROPOSALS.

Notice to Builders
FOR WORK ON
FIFTH AVE. IMPROVEMENT.

Measures for the improvement of Fifth avenue having been delayed by circumstances over which the Commissioners had no control, all bids for work made in pursuance of their advertisement of the 13th of May last, remain unopened. As the lapse of time with changes in the prices of labor and materials may have altered the views of bidders, the Commissioners have determined to extend the time for the reception of proposals for their work indicated in their advertisement of the 13th of May last, until Tuesday, the 20th of August, until which period bidders are at liberty to withdraw their previous bids, modify them, or submit new ones.

Therefore, Sealed Proposals for the Grading, Paving, Curbing and Masonry on Fifth avenue, from Charlotte street to Penn avenue, will be received at the office of the Fifth avenue Commissioners' Room, No. 35, Third Floor, New City Hall, until 3 O'Clock P. M.

AUGUST 20th, 1872.

Separate proposals must be made for each description of work.

The Commissioners reserve the right to reject any or all bids for the proposed work.

Plans and specifications may be seen and all other necessary information obtained, on application to Isaac Morley, the Secretary and Engineer of the Commissioners.
